eighteenth century when laws against sodomy were exploited by the unscrupulous to extort money from those they could entrap Angus McLaren chronicles this parasitic crime tracing its expansion in England and the United States through the Victorian era and into the first half of the twentieth century The labeling of certain sexual acts as disreputable if not actually criminal abortion infidelity prostitution and homosexuality armed would be blackmailers and led to a crescendo of court cases and public scandals in the 1920s and 1930s As the importance of sexual respectability was inflated so too was the spectacle of its loss Charting the rise and fall of sexual taboos and the shifting tides of shame McLaren enables us to survey evolving sexual practices and discussions He has mined the archives to tell his story through a host of fascinating characters and cases from male bounders to designing women from badger games to gold diggers from victimless crimes to homosexual outing He shows how these stories shocked educated entertained and destroyed the lives of their victims He also demonstrates how muckraking journalists con men and vengeful women determined the boundaries of sexual respectability and damned those considered deviant Ultimately the sexual revolution of the 1960s blurred the long rigid lines of respectability leading to a rapid decline of blackmail fears This fascinating view of the impact of regulating sexuality from the late Victorian Age to our own time demonstrates the centrality of blackmail to sexual practices deviance and the law The Publishers' and Stationers' Weekly Trade Circular ,1872 Exploring the Interior Karl S. Guthke,2018-05-24 In this fascinating collection of essays Harvard Emeritus Professor Karl S Guthke examines the ways in which for European scholars and writers of the eighteenth and early nineteenth century world wide geographical exploration led to an exploration of the self Guthke explains how in the age of Enlightenment and beyond intellectual developments were fuelled by excitement about what Ulrich Im Hof called the grand opening up of the wide world especially of the interior of the non European continents This outward turn was complemented by a fascination with the world within as anthropology and ethnology focused on the humanity of the indigenous populations of far away lands an interest in human nature that suggested a way for Europeans to understand themselves encapsulated in Gauguin s Tahitian rumination What are we The essays in the first half of the book discuss first or second hand physical or mental encounters with the exotic lands and populations beyond the supposed cradle of civilisation The works of literature and documents of cultural life featured in these essays bear testimony to the crossing not only of geographical ethnological and cultural borders but also of borders of a variety of intellectual activities and interests The second section examines the growing interest in astronomy and the engagement with imagined worlds in the universe again with a view to understanding homo sapiens as compared now to the extra terrestrials that were confidently assumed to exist The final group of essays focuses on the exploration of the landscape of what was called the universe within featuring among a variety of other texts Schiller s plays The Maid of Orleans and William Tell these essays observe and analyse what Erich Heller termed The Artist s Journey into the Interior This collection which travels from the interior of continents to the interior of the mind is itself a set of explorations that revel in the discovery of what was half hidden in language Written by a scholar of international repute it is eye opening reading for all those with an interest in the literary and cultural history of and since the Enlightenment The Gardeners' Chronicle and Agricultural Gazette ,1852
