Thomas,2005

Until a few decades ago student writing stood as a distant third in the three R s Since the late 1970s however students have been asked to write more and teachers have been expected to teach writing more specifically In spite of this mandate however little has been done to prepare teachers for this shift in the curriculum This primer provides a brief history of the field as well as an exploration of what we now know about teaching Teachers entering the field as well as seasoned veterans will find how to foster student writers and to grow as writers themselves R.E.A.D. Kimberly Kimbell-Lopez,Carrice

Cummins,2009-10-05 R E A D will help educators turn their students into strategic readers It presents a collection of strategies based on the 5 2 essential elements of literacy instruction oral language phonemic awareness phonics fluency vocabulary comprehension and writing Each section contains a brief conceptual overview as well as specific strategies that can be used to facilitate the development of that literacy process A graphic at the beginning of each strategy identifies when it should be used the most appropriate group size and the grade levels for which it would be most applicable Additional references and or other resources are also provided at the end of each strategy description to provide educators with more information Foundational Practices of Online Writing Instruction Beth L. Hewett,Kevin Eric DePew,2015-04-15

Foundational Practices in Online Writing Instruction addresses administrators and instructors questions for developing online writing programs and courses Written by experts in the field this book uniquely attends to issues of inclusive and accessible online writing instruction in technology enhanced settings as well as teaching with mobile technologies and multimodal compositions Teaching Literacy in Sixth Grade Karen D. The Concise Guide to Teaching Composition Derek Soles,2007 This concise guide for teaching college composition was written especially for writing teachers who are graduate teaching assistants or those whose academic preparation is in a discipline other than rhetoric and composition Completely research based and generously documented this practical guide boils down the most important composition theory and pedagogy into 17 brief practical chapters that will edify those who are new to the discipline and serve as a refresher to those who are more experienced Handbook of Special Education James M. Kauffman,Daniel P. Hallahan,Paige Cullen Pullen,2017-05-25 The purpose of the Handbook of Special Education is to help profile and bring greater clarity to the already sprawling and continuously expanding field of special education To ensure consistency across the volume chapter authors review and integrate existing research identify strengths and weaknesses note gaps in the literature and discuss implications for practice and future research The second edition has been fully updated throughout to take into account recent changes to federal laws as well as the most current academic research and an entirely new section has been added on research methods in special education Teaching Writing in English as a Foreign Language Huan Zhao,Lawrence Jun Zhang,2022-05-30 This book explores teachers cognitions about the teaching of writing in English as a foreign language EFL and their teaching practice as well as factors influencing the formation and reformation process of their cognition Taking stock of Bakhtin s dialogism as the theoretical framework the authors argue that the formation and reformation of teacher cognition is a dialogic process A systematic analysis of participating teachers cognition formation and re formation process suggests the highly individual nature of teachers cognitions EFL researchers and teachers teacher educators teacher education policymakers university administrators and EFL textbook writers could draw on the findings of the study to provide better resources to implement the teaching of EFL writing more effectively The study has adopted a mixed methods approach whose quantitative results show the patterns and differences of teacher cognition among teachers of different backgrounds and with different schooling education and working experiences The qualitative findings show in detail teachers cognition formation and reformation processes and the factors contributing to such processes revealing convergence and divergence of teachers stated cognitions with a focus on the discrepancy between teacher cognition and teaching practice These are useful lenses through which researchers and teachers will find significant implications for offering EFL writing instruction more effectively
