From Slave to Sultan Linda Northrup, 1998 Spanning the greater part of the thirteenth century the career of the Mamluk sultan of Egypt and Syria al Mansur Qalawun is of great interest for the light it sheds on the major themes of early Mamluk history the emergence of a new political and administrative structure characterized by increased militarization and mamlukization the role of the caliphate and the nature of sultani authority the problem of succession Mamluk factionalism Egyptian Syrian relations relations with Mongols and Crusaders and the importance not to mention the strategic and complex nature of international trade in the Mamluk realm Not only does this work fill a gap in knowledge of the early Mamluk period complementing the studies we have of Baybars s and al Nasir Muhammad s reigns but it goes further than most in analyzing the institutions of the period and uses hitherto neglected materials to illuminate theoretical and practical questions of Mamluk rule With indices From Slave to Sultan is well written The analysis is dense and packed with scholarship it is one of those books of which specialists will devour the notes with even greater relish than they do the text Graduate students in particular will be grateful for her first chapter in which she introduces describes and evaluates the various sources MESA Bulletin This book will unquestionably stand as the authoritative work on Qalawun for some time to come School of Oriental African Studies Northrup is to be commended for undertaking this important and much needed project with her persistent efforts meticulous and critical reading of the sources sound methodology and diligent presentation The result is a definitive work on the political legacy of one of the most eminent early Mamluk sultans Journal of Near Eastern Studies Franz Steiner 1998

Lustmord Maria Tatar,1995 In a book that confronts our society s obsession with sexual violence and the image of the violated female corpse in our collective consciousness Harvard culturist Maria Tatar examines images of sexual murder and studies how art and murder have intersected in sexual culture from Weimar Germany to the present 44 photos German Cinema - Terror and Trauma Thomas Elsaesser,2013-10-30 In German Cinema Terror and Trauma Since 1945 Thomas Elsaesser reevaluates the meaning of the Holocaust for postwar German films and culture while offering a reconsideration of trauma theory today Elsaesser argues that Germany s attempts at mastering the past can be seen as both a failure and an achievement making it appropriate to speak of an ongoing guilt management that includes not only Germany but Europe as a whole In a series of case studies which consider the work of Konrad Wolf Alexander Kluge Rainer Werner Fassbinder Herbert Achterbusch and Harun Farocki as well as films made in the new century Elsaesser tracks the different ways the Holocaust is present in German cinema from the 1950s onwards even when it is absent or referenced in oblique and hyperbolic ways Its most emphatically absent presence might turn out to be the compulsive afterlife of the Red Army Faction whose acts of terror in the 1970s were a response to as well as a reminder of Nazism s hold on the national imaginary Since the end of the Cold War and 9 11 the terms of the debate around terror and trauma have shifted also in Germany where generational memory now distributes the roles of historical agency and accountability differently Against the background of universalized victimhood a cinema of commemoration has if anything confirmed the violence that the past continues to exert on the present in the form of missed encounters retroactive incidents unintended slippages and uncanny parallels which Elsaesser reviving the full meaning of Freud s Fehlleistung calls the parapractic performativity of cultural memory A German Women's Movement Nancy R. Reagin,2000-11-09 Nancy Reagin analyzes the rhetoric strategies and programs of more than eighty bourgeois women's associations in Hanover a large provincial capital from the Imperial period to the Nazi seizure of power. She examines the social and demographic foundations of the Hanoverian women's movement interweaving local history with developments on the national level. Using the German experience as a case study, Reagin explores the links between political conservatism and a feminist agenda based on a belief in innate gender differences. Reagin's analysis encompasses a wide variety of women's organizations: feminist, nationalist, religious, philanthropic, political, and professional. It focuses on the ways in which bourgeois women's class background and political socialization and their support of the idea of spiritual motherhood combined within an antidemocratic climate to produce a conservative maternalist approach to women's issues and other political matters. According to Reagin, the fact that the women's movement evolved in this way helps to explain why so many middle class women found National Socialism appealing.

New Readings in Arabic Historiography from Late Medieval Egypt and Syria Jo van Steenberghe, Maya Termonia, 2021-04-19. The present volume contributes to research on historic Arabic texts from late medieval Egypt and Syria. Departing from dominant understandings of these texts through the prisms of authenticity and literarization, it engages with questions of textual constructedness and authorial agency. It consists of 13 contributions by a new generation of scholars in three parts. Each part represents a different aspect of their new readings of particular texts. Part one looks at concrete instances of textual interdependencies; part two at the creativity of authorial agencies; and part three at the relationship between texts and social practice. New Readings thus participates in the revaluation of late medieval Arabic historiography as a critical field of inquiry. Contributors: Rasmus Bech Olsen, Victor de Castro, Le'n Mohammad Gharaibeh, Kenneth A. Goudie, Christian Mauder, Evan Metzger, Zacharie Mochtari, de Pierrepont, Clément Onimus, Tarek Sabra, Iria Sant's de Arcos, Gowaart Van Den Bossche, Koby Yosef.

In Germany at the turn of the century, Buddhism transformed from an obscure topic of interest to only a few misfit scholars into a cultural phenomenon. Many of the foremost authors of the period were profoundly influenced by this rapid rise of Buddhism among them, some of the best known names in the German Jewish canon. Sebastian Musch excavates this neglected dimension of German Jewish identity, drawing on philosophical treatises, novels, essays, diaries, and letters to trace the history of Jewish Buddhist encounters up to the start of the Second World War. Franz Rosenzweig, Martin Buber, Leo Baeck, Theodor Lessing, Jakob Wassermann, Walter Hasenclever, and Lion Feuchtwanger are featured alongside other lesser known figures like Paul Cohen, Portheim, and Walter Tausk. As Musch shows, when these thinkers wrote about Buddhism, they were also negotiating their own Jewishness. Who's who in Omaha, 1928. Black Sun Nicholas Goodrick-Clarke, 2003-07.
