

CUSTODIAN VS. JANITOR

DIFFERENCES OF THESE TWO METIERS

- A Custodian is a person who takes primary control and responsibility for the care and protection of the property of others. Examples of custodianship include: parents, guardians, teachers, and employers.
- A Janitor is a person who is responsible for the maintenance and cleanliness of a building or facility. Examples of janitorial work include: sweeping, mopping, dusting, and cleaning.

- A Custodian is responsible for ensuring a safe and secure environment for the people who are in their care. This includes: monitoring the behavior of the people in their care, providing supervision, and ensuring that the people in their care are protected from harm.
- A Janitor is responsible for ensuring that the building or facility is clean and well-maintained. This includes: sweeping, mopping, dusting, and cleaning, as well as: repairing and maintaining the building's infrastructure.

While both Custodian and Janitor are responsible for the care and protection of property, the Custodian is responsible for the people who are in their care, while the Janitor is responsible for the building or facility. The Custodian is also responsible for ensuring a safe and secure environment for the people in their care, while the Janitor is responsible for ensuring that the building or facility is clean and well-maintained.
