Rockhound: A Geography of Collecting Michael Gordon, 2017-05-15 In this book Rockhound A Geography of Collecting you will be shown Ontario's incredible history of mineral extraction and as you will see rockhounds follow in the signature that every industry left. The full Rockhound series tells you how and where to find crystals, minerals, gold, diamonds, and all manner of rock and mineral treasure for the collector. This book is an absolute gem and an essential guide to Ontario geology as it relates to mineral collecting.

The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki, Takeru Akazawa, 2017-12-06 This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6, 2014 in Hokkaido, Japan. Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo, the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans. The results of the sessions supplemented by off-site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond. The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions, namely the Caucasus, the Zagros, and South Asia. The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant, displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions. This syncretism, which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume, reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia.

Transit-Oriented Displacement or Community Dividends? Karen Chapple, Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris, 2019-04-09 An examination of the neighborhood transformation, gentrification, and displacement that accompany more compact development around transit. Cities and regions throughout the world are encouraging smarter growth patterns and expanding their transit systems to accommodate this growth, reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and satisfy new demands for mobility and accessibility. Yet despite a burgeoning literature and various policy interventions in recent decades, we still understand little about what happens to neighborhoods and residents with the development of transit systems and the trend toward more compact cities. Research has failed to determine why some neighborhoods change both physically and socially while others do not, and how race and class shape change in the twenty-first century context of growing inequality. Drawing on novel methodological approaches, this book sheds new light on the question of who benefits and who loses from more compact development around new transit stations. Building on data at multiple levels, it connects quantitative analysis on regional patterns with qualitative research through interviews, field observations, and photographic documentation in twelve different California neighborhoods. From the local to the regional to the global, Chapple and Loukaitou-Sideris examine the phenomena of neighborhood transformation, gentrification, and displacement not only through an empirical lens but also from theoretical and historical perspectives Growing out of an in depth research process that involved close collaboration with dozens of community groups the book aims to respond to the needs of both advocates and policymakers for ideas that work in the trenches

The Difference that Gender Makes to International Peace and Security Sara Davies, Nicole George, Jacqui

True, 2018-10-29 Fifteen years after the adoption of UN Security Council Resolution 1325 which establishes the Women Peace and Security agenda there is now a need to assess the impacts of gender equality efforts and to understand why and how gender equality reforms have advanced to the extent that they have This book examines how international peace and security is re envisioned from a gender perspective by mostly focusing on the nuances presented by the Asia Pacific region It argues that despite the diversity of political socio cultural and economic systems in the Asia Pacific women and girls in the region continue to experience similar forms of insecurities Several countries in the Asia Pacific have demonstrated relative peace and stability In addition women s leadership and participation in peacebuilding are and continue to be increasingly recognized in the region too However as the chapters in this book demonstrate applying a critical gender analysis allows for the interrogation of veneers of political order which can then mask or normalise everyday gendered insecurities The analysis of country cases such as Myanmar Cambodia and Fiji underscores a rethinking of the political order in the Asia Pacific which leaves existing gender inequalities intact The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue in the International Feminist Journal of Politics

Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia Peter Ellis, Mark Roberts, 2015-11-13 The number of people in South Asia s cities rose by 130 million between 2000 and 2011 more than the entire population of Japan This was linked to an improvement in productivity and a reduction in the incidence of extreme poverty But the region s cities have struggled to cope with the pressure of population growth on land housing infrastructure basic services and the environment As a result urbanization in South Asia remains underleveraged in its ability to deliver widespread improvements in both prosperity and livability Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia is about the state of South Asia s urbanization and the market and policy failures that have taken the region s urban areas to where they are today and the hard policy actions needed if the region s cities are to leverage urbanization better This publication provides original empirical and diagnostic analysis of urbanization and related economic trends in the region It also discusses in detail the key policy areas the most fundamental being urban governance and finance where actions must be taken to make cities more prosperous and livable

Territorial Designs and International Politics Boaz Atzili,Burak Kadercan,2018-12-07 Territory is back with a vengeance Although territorial politics never really went away it was often perceived that way in public discussion and among scholars The territorial conflicts of the last several years however have raised new academic and policy questions revived old debates that were nearly forgotten and forced us to rethink many of our common conceptions Social scientists broadly agree that territory as well as the boundaries that confine it and group identity that relates to it are socially constructed rather than natural or primordial But how and through which mechanisms is the meaning of territory constructed By whom For which purposes and by what tools Which forces influence such territorial designs How do different territorial designs affect state behavior in particular and the dynamics of international politics in general This book brings together political scientists and geographers both disciplines in which scholars have long researched such questions to create a mutually fertilizing dialogue which will advance our understanding of territorial designs The authors tackle core theoretical questions institutions and ideas of territoriality borders space place and identity as well as the methodologies used to study them They utilize case studies as far apart as the Ottoman Empire the colonization of Ireland and current day Middle East and they interrogate the characteristics of spaces as different as land air and water The chapters were originally published as a special issue of Territory Politics Governance

Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian,Charles Weiss,2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S's still strong research oriented innovation system

Beneath the China Boom Julia Chuang, 2020-01-14 For nearly four decades China's manufacturing boom has been powered by the labor of 287 million rural migrant workers who travel seasonally between villages where they farm for subsistence and cities where they work Yet recently local governments have moved away from manufacturing and toward urban expansion and construction as a development strategy As a result at least 88 million rural people to date have lost rights to village land In Beneath the China Boom Julia Chuang follows the trajectories of rural workers who were once supported by a village welfare state and are now landless This book provides a view of the undertow of China's economic success and the periodic crises a rural fiscal crisis a runaway urbanization that it first created and now must resolve
