tells of the challenges faced by white and black school administrators teachers parents and students as Alachua County Florida moved from segregated schools to a single unitary school system After Brown v Board of Education the South s separate white and black schools continued under lower court opinions provided black students could choose to go to white schools Not until 1968 did the NAACP Legal Defense Fund convince the Supreme Court to end dual school systems Almost fifty years later African Americans in Alachua County remain divided over that outcome A unique study including extensive interviews We Can Do It asks important questions among them How did both races without precedent work together to create desegregated schools What conflicts arose and how were they resolved or not How was the community affected And at a time when resegregation and persistent white black achievement gaps continue to challenge public schools what lessons can we learn from the generation that desegregated our schools Disrupting the Teacher Opportunity Gap Jon

Saphier,2023-07-12 For over 70 years our nation s public schools have engaged in a multitude of reform efforts at all levels of the educational enterprise Without question we have encountered bright spot examples of educators who have elevated the quality of their teaching and learning and even helping to narrow achievement gaps And without question our approach has been for the most part scattershot The painful truth is that there is no single silver bullet solution Excellent teaching is a highly complex endeavor and no single program course of study or survival guide will adequately prepare our educators to meet the challenge With that said as Ron Edmonds proclaimed more than 40 years ago We can whenever and wherever we choose successfully teach all children whose schooling is of interest to us We already know more than we need to do that So if the knowledge base for high impact teaching is there why has it been so difficult to implement it at scale c Provided by publisher IBEW Journal ,1989 Private Secondary Schools: Traditional Day and Boarding Schools
