

Chapter 7: Founding a Nation

America Under the Confederation

What were the achievements and problems of the Confederation government?

The Articles of Confederation

- Articles of Confederation was the first written constitution drafted by Congress in 1777 (ratified 1781)
 - Sought to balance need for national coordination of the War on Independence with fear of centralized power (danger to liberty)
 - More of a treaty for mutual defense ("firm league of friendships")
 - 13 states retained individual "sovereignty, freedom, and independence"
- National government
 - Consisted of a one house Congress
 - 1 vote per state (regardless of population)
 - No president to enforce laws
 - No judiciary to interpret laws
 - Major decisions required 9 votes (not simple majority)
 - Only power specifically granted to national government were those essential to independence
 - Declaring war
 - Conducting foreign affairs
 - Making treaties with other governments
 - Had no financial resources
 - Could coin money
 - Lacked power to levy tax or regulate commerce
 - Revenue came from individual state contributions
 - To amend Articles: required consent of ALL states
 - Established national control over land west of 13 states
 - Originally, Virginia, Connecticut, Carolinas claimed lots of western land
 - Eventually ceded western land claims in the name of national unity

Congress, Settlers, and the West

- Congress' position was that Indians, by aiding the British during the war, forfeited their right to land between states and Mississippi River
 - No distinction made between tribes that sided with enemy, sided with patriots, or were neutral
 - Indians surrendered their land at peace conferences at demand of state representatives
- Confederation was conflicted on what to do with western land
 - Some believed economic health required farmers have land
 - Some believed land sales as a potential revenue source
- Large population movement from settled parts of original states to frontier areas (upstate NY, and across Appalachian Mountains to Kentucky and Tennessee)
 - Settlers believed the right to take possession of land and use it as they saw fit was essential to American freedom
 - Leaders
 - Believed unregulated flow of population across mountains would provoke warfare with Indians
 - Saw frontier settlers as disorderly and lacking respect for authority
