Claude McKay, Rebel Sojourner in the Harlem Renaissance Wayne F. Cooper, 1996-02-01 Cooper paints a meticulous and absorbing portrait of McKay s restless artistic intellectual and political odyssey The definitive biography on McKay Choice Although recognized today as one of the genuine pioneers of black literature in this century the author of If We Must Die Home to Harlem Banana Bottom and A Long Way from Home among other works Claude McKay 1890 1948 died penniless and almost forgotten in a Chicago hospital In this masterly study Wayne Cooper presents a fascinating detailed account of McKay s complex chaotic and frequently contradictory life In his poetry and fiction as well as in his political and social commentaries McKay searched for a solid foundation for a valid black identity among the working class cultures of the West Indies and the United States He was an undeniably important predecessor to such younger writers of the Harlem Renaissance as Langston Hughes and Countee Cullen and also to influential West Indian and African writers such as C L R

James and Aim C saire Knowledge of his life adds important dimensions to our understanding of American radicalism the expatriates of the 1920s and American literature Mr Cooper s most original contribution is his careful and perceptive analysis of McKay s nonfiction writing especially his social and political commentary which often contained prophetic statements on a range of important social political and historical issues New York Times Book Review Trauma, Survival and Resilience in War Zones David Winter,Rachel Brown,Stephanie Goins,Clare Mason,2015-10-16 This book based upon a series of psychological research studies examines Sierra Leone as a case study of a constructivist and narrative perspective on psychological responses to warfare telling the stories of a range of survivors of the civil war The authors explore previous research on psychological responses to warfare while providing background information on the Sierra Leone civil war and its context Chapters consider particular groups of survivors including former child soldiers as well as amputee footballers mental health service users and providers and refugees Implications of the themes emerging from this research are considered with respect to how new understandings can inform current models of trauma and work with its survivors Amongst the issues concerned will be post traumatic stress and post traumatic growth resilience mental health service provision perpetration of atrocities and forgiveness The book also provides a critical consideration of the appropriateness of the use of Western concepts and methods in an African context Drawing upon psychological theory and rich narrative research Trauma Survival and Resilience in War Zones will appeal to researchers and academics in the field of clinical psychology as well as those studying post war conflict zones Women and Rebel Communities in the Cuban Insurgent Movement, 1952-1959 Linda A. Eysenck,2017-07-05 Hans Eysenck is one of the world's leading psychologists and undoubtedly the most controversial. Throughout a long and illustrious career his work on personality and intelligence has aroused impassioned debate and attacks both verbal and physical on Eysenck himself. In his compelling and absorbing autobiography Eysenck recounts in some detail the battles he had to fight in order to establish his major conclusions as well as the reasons why he investigated these subjects. He also discusses his work on such topics as the health hazards of smoking, the prophylactic effects of behavior therapy on cancer and coronary heart disease, parapsychology, astrology and other matters. In a new foreword written for this edition Eysenck expresses his pleasure regarding the fact that his autobiography is now being published in the United States. He discusses how much of his scientific life has been bound up with American psychology. Also new to this American edition is a chapter titled "Genius, Creativity and Vitamins" in which Eysenck talks about the research he has worked on since his retirement in 1983. Rebel with a Cause is an intriguing autobiography and will be of paramount interest to psychologists, sociologists and genetic scientists. The Black Man of the South, and the Rebels Charles Stearns, 1872 Rebel Fay Barb Hendee, J.C. Hendee, 2008-01-02. Magiere the Dhampir was created by a shadowy long forgotten enemy of many names, an enemy who the elf Leesil was trained from childhood to kill. They were brought together by the Fay to forge an alliance that might have the power to stand against the forces of dark magics. But as Magiere and Leesil uncover the truth they discover just how close the enemy has always been.

A Mother's Sacrifice Catherine King, 2009-12-03. From the Sunday Times bestselling author another gritty and compelling saga in the vein of Dilly Court and Maggie Hope. Destitute Quinta Haig is struggling to make ends meet at Top Field with her ailing mother Laura. Their small Yorkshire farm is run down and isolated and when the only way to take their goods to market is lost, Quinta is prepared to sacrifice almost anything for both of them to survive. Coveted Noah Bilton, a wealthy neighbour, has designs on Top Field as well as ideas for the future of Laura and her daughter. He offers an uneasy solution to keep them out of the workhouse but Laura Haig will have nothing to do with it or him. Deserted, Quinta finds love against all odds but is deserted at her most vulnerable. The hardships that follow give her a steely determination to seek retribution from the man who has wronged her but can revenge ever bring back her happiness. The New Humanitarians Chris E. Stout Ph.D., 2008-11-30. From Braille Without Borders and Unite for Sight to Geekcorps and PeaceWorks, humanitarian groups are working worldwide, largely in undeveloped countries, to better the lives of the residents. Whether they are empowering people with schools for the blind, prosthetic limbs, the devices to understand and use technology, or the information to work for civil peace, the men and women of these agencies offer tremendous talent to their causes, great dedication and sometimes even risk their lives to complete their missions. Working in war or civil war zones, humanitarians with nonprofits, non-governmental agencies and university connected centers and foundations have been injured, kidnapped or killed. Now terrorist events and war crimes are more and more often bringing these self-sacrificing workers into the national spotlight by media headlines. Their work is doubtless remarkable. And so too are the stories of how they developed, including the defining moments when their founders felt they could no longer stand by and do nothing In this set of books founders and top officials from humanitarian organizations established in the last 50 years spotlight how and why they began their organizations what their greatest victories and challenges have been and how they run the organizations down to where they get their funding and how they spend it to grow the group and its efforts Led by Chris E Stout named Humanitarian of the Year by the American Psychological Association the contributors here come from across training disciplines including psychology medicine technology science politics social work and business Stout who has worked in Latin American terrorist zones in Vietnam and along the Amazon in Ecuador with Flying Doctors of America has chosen to feature a sample of humanitarian groups across four primary areas medicine environment education and social justice He also concentrates on what he calls guerilla humanitarians those who step into unsafe or unhealthy conditions despite the dangers There is also a concentration on those that have been very successful with on the ground guerilla innovations without a lot of bureaucracy or baloney Above all They are rebels with a cause whose actions speak louder than mere words Stout explains They have all felt a moral duty to serve as vectors of change In addition to being psychologically insightful these volumes hold invaluable practical information
