Biomedical Image Processing and

Classification Luca Mesin, 2021-05-26 Biomedical image processing is an interdisciplinary field involving a variety of disciplines e.g. electronics, computer science, physics, mathematics, physiology, and medicine. Several imaging techniques have been developed, providing many approaches to the study of the human body. Biomedical image processing is finding an increasing number of important applications in, for example, the study of the internal structure or function of an organ and the diagnosis or treatment of a disease. If associated with classification methods, it can support the development of computer-aided diagnosis CAD systems which could help medical doctors in refining their clinical picture.

Cardiovascular Disease Gaetano Santulli, 2021-04-30 According to the most updated epidemiological studies, cardiovascular disease remains a leading cause of death. In fact, despite substantial advances in the care of patients, the incidence of cardiovascular disorders continues to increase. Therefore, the search for novel mechanisms and therapeutics is desperately needed, and translational studies represent the best strategy to uncover novel therapeutic targets, reduce mortality, and improve the quality of life. This book gathers original articles and systematic reviews that have both a strong basic research background and clear translational potential. All the studies have been peer-reviewed by at least two experts in the field. These contributions provide an updated systematic overview that examines in detail the mechanisms of the main cardiovascular and metabolic disorders, including ischemic and non-ischemic heart failure, hypertension, thromboembolism, atherosclerosis, stroke, diabetes mellitus, dyslipidemia, metabolic syndrome, valvulopathies, peripheral artery disease. In the final chapter, the functional role of the endothelium in the systemic manifestations of COVID-19 is described.

Futureproofing Engineering Education for Global Responsibility Michael E. Auer, Tiia Rüttermann, 2025-03-20 This book contains papers in the fields of Collaborative learning, Digital transition in education, AI and learning analytics in engineering education, Diversity in engineering education. The authors are currently witnessing a significant transformation in the development of education on all levels and especially in post-secondary and higher education. To face these challenges, higher education must find innovative and effective ways to respond in a proper way. Changes have been made in the way we teach and learn, including the massive use of new means of communication such as videoconferencing and other technological tools. Moreover, the current explosion of artificial intelligence tools is challenging teaching practices maintained for centuries. Scientifically based statements as well as excellent best practice examples are necessary for effective teaching and learning engineering. The 27th International Conference on Interactive Collaborative Learning ICL2024 and 53rd Conference of International Society for Engineering Pedagogy IGIP, which took place in Tallinn, Estonia, between 24 and 27 September 2024, was the perfect place where current trends in higher education were presented and discussed. IGIP conferences have been held since 1972 on research results and best practices in teaching and learning from the point of view of engineering pedagogy science ICL conferences have been held since 1998 being devoted to new approaches in learning with a focus on collaborative learning in Higher Education Nowadays the ICL conferences are a forum of the exchange of relevant trends and research results as well as the presentation of practical experiences in learning and Engineering Pedagogy In this way the authors try to bridge the gap between pure scientific research and the everyday work of educators Interested readership includes policymakers academics educators researchers in pedagogy and learning theory schoolteachers learning industry further and continuing education lecturers etc CURRENT AFFAIRS-2020 NARAYAN CHANGDER,2023-01-10 Note
