Breaking the cycle: attacking the malaria parasite in the liver Ute Frevert,Urszula Krzych, Thomas L. Richie,2016-01-06 Despite significant progress in the global fight against malaria this parasitic infection is still responsible for nearly 300 million clinical cases and more than half a million deaths each year predominantly in African children less than 5 years of age The infection starts when mosquitoes transmit small numbers of parasites into the skin From here the parasites travel with the bloodstream to the liver where they undergo an initial round of replication and maturation to the next developmental stage that infects red blood cells A vaccine capable of blocking the clinically silent liver phase of the Plasmodium life cycle would prevent the subsequent symptomatic phase of this tropical disease including its frequently fatal manifestations such as severe anemia acute lung injury and cerebral malaria Parasitologists immunologists and vaccinologists have come to appreciate the complexity of the adaptive immune response against the liver stages of this deadly parasite Lymphocytes play a central role in the elimination of Plasmodium infected hepatocytes both in humans and animal models but our understanding of the exact cellular interactions and molecular effector mechanisms that lead to parasite killing within the complex hepatic microenvironment of an immune host is still rudimentary Nevertheless recent collaborative efforts have led to promising vaccine approaches based on liver stages that have conferred sterile immunity in humans the University of Oxford s Ad prime MVA boost vaccine the Naval Medical Research Center s DNA prime Ad boost vaccine Sanaria Inc s radiation attenuated whole sporozoite vaccine and Radboud University Medical Centre s and Sanaria s derived chemoprophylaxis with sporozoites vaccines The aim of this Research Topic is to bring together researchers with expertise in malariology immunology hepatology antigen discovery and vaccine development to provide a better understanding of the basic biology of Plasmodium in the liver and the host s innate and adaptive immune responses Understanding the conditions required to generate complete protection in a vaccinated individual will bring us closer to our ultimate goal namely to develop a safe scalable and affordable malaria vaccine capable of inducing sustained high level protective immunity in the large proportion of the world's population constantly at risk of malaria

High-Energy Astrophysics Research Enabled By The Probe-Class Mission Concept HEX-P Gabriele Ponti, Murray Brightman, Esra Bulbul, Renee Ludlam, Daniel Stern, Javier A. García, 2025-06-02

The Astro 2020 Decadal report Pathways to Discovery in Astronomy and Astrophysics for the 2020s identified the need for a new class of mission for the next decade that fills the gap between a Mid sized Explorer MIDEX and Flagship Large mission The report specifically recommends that a cadence of one probe mission per decade with a cost cap of 1.5 billion balances scientific scope with timeliness NASA has followed this recommendation and opened a call for Astrophysics Probe Explorer APEX proposals restricted to either a far infrared or an X ray mission due in Fall 2023 with a planned launch date in no later than 2032 In response to this call the High Energy X ray Probe HEX P concept has been developed as a partnership between NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory JPL the California Institute of Technology Caltech and the NASA Goddard Space Flight Center GSFC with international partnership from the Italian Space Agency ASI Italy the German Space Agency DLR and the Max Planck Institute for Extraterrestrial Physics MPE Germany HEX P is a mission concept that offers sensitive broad band coverage from soft to hard X rays 0.2-80 keV with an exceptional combination of spectral timing and angular capabilities It features two high energy telescopes HETs that focus hard X rays and one low energy telescope LET that focuses lower energy X rays building upon the heritage of previous successful missions such as XMM Newton and NuSTAR With this leap in observational capability HEX P will be capable of addressing fundamental questions about the extreme environments around black holes and neutron stars map the growth of supermassive black holes and quantify the effect they have on their environments HEX P will resolve the hard X ray emission from dense regions of our Galaxy to understand the high energy source populations and investigate dark matter candidate particles through their decay channel signatures In this Frontiers Research Topic we present a collection of papers which delve into some of the most exciting scientific questions that can be addressed with a mission like HEX P The papers have been prepared by members of the HEX P collaboration which is organized into four main scientific pillars Black Hole Growth Accretion Power Stellar Evolution Time Domain and Multi Messenger Astronomy The individual papers cover a range of topics including The cosmic X ray background Seyfert galaxies Compton thick active galaxies and blazars Black hole binaries neutron stars magnetars ultraluminous X ray sources and tidal disruption events The physics of the X ray corona X ray populations in nearby galaxies Supernova remnants pulsar wind nebulae and nuclear astrophysics Galactic PeVatrons star clusters superbubbles microquasar jets and gamma ray binaries The Galactic Center Supermassive black spin measurements and dual active galaxies Pulsar Timing electromagnetic counterparts of gravitational wave sources and transient phenomena The main goal of this Research Topic is to present detailed modeling and simulations for a range of HEX P science cases in order to demonstrate the capabilities of HEX P in serving the astrophysics community in the next decade The members of the

HEX P mission are welcome to present Original Research papers as well as any other kind of article types that fit their manuscript Please have a look at here to choose the appropriate article type to submit to this collection This Research Topic is organized by the researchers of the HEX P mission Authors and Guest Editors belong to the same consortium Furthermore Dr Daniel Stern and Dr Javier Garcia are the Principal Investigator and the Project Scientist of the mission respectively All manuscripts will be peer reviewed by researchers external to the collaboration Wealth, Virtue, and Moral Luck Kate Ward,2021-10-01 In Wealth Virtue and Moral Luck Kate Ward addresses the issue of inequality from the perspective of Christian virtue ethics arguing that our individual life circumstances affect our ability to pursue virtue and showing how Christians and Christian communities should respond to create a world where it is easier for people to be virtuous

Protein Phosphorylation in Health and Disease Allegra Via,Andreas Zanzoni,2016-08-11 Protein phosphorylation is one of the most abundant reversible post translational modifications in eukaryotes It is involved in virtually all cellular processes by regulating protein function localization and stability and by mediating protein protein interactions Furthermore aberrant protein phosphorylation is implicated in the onset and progression of human diseases such as cancer and neurodegenerative disorders In the last years tens of thousands of in vivo phosphorylation events have been identified by large scale quantitative phospho proteomics experiment suggesting that a large fraction of the proteome might be regulated by phosphorylation This data explosion is increasingly enabling the development of computational approaches often combined with experimental validation aiming at prioritizing phosphosites and assessing their functional relevance Some computational approaches also address the inference of specificity determinants of protein kinases phosphatases and the identification of phosphoresidue recognition domains In this context several challenging issues are still open regarding phosphorylation including a better understanding of the interplay between phosphorylation and allosteric regulation agents and mechanisms disrupting or promoting abnormal phosphorylation in diseases the identification and modulation of novel phosphorylation inhibitors and so forth Furthermore the determinants of kinase and phosphatase recognition and binding specificity are still unknown in several cases as well as the impact of disease mutations on phosphorylation mediated signaling The articles included in this Research Topic illustrate the very diverse aspects of phosphorylation ranging from structural changes induced by phosphorylation to the peculiarities of phosphosite evolution Some also provide a glimpse into the huge complexity of phosphorylation networks and pathways in health and disease and underscore that a deeper knowledge of such processes is essential to identify disease biomarkers on one hand and design more effective therapeutic strategies on the other Interactions Between Proteins and Biomacromolecules: Tools and Applications Qunye Zhang,Lianli Chi,Fuming Zhang,2021-08-02 Mental Health Promotion and Protection Naseem Akhtar Qureshi,Samrat Singh Bhandari,Giorgio Di Lorenzo,Harshavardhan Sampath,2023-09-13 The WHO constitution states Health is a state of complete physical mental and social well being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity There are multiple factors that contribute towards good mental health including civil liberties politics economics social rights and cultural diversity and quality of life of the individual and the society as a whole The promotion of mental health spans many disciplines in order to cover all these factors such as education work justice housing and welfare Therefore it is important to collaborate to create an environment that promotes and supports mental health to improve psychological well being and allow individuals to realize their own abilities work productively and contribute to society and live fulfilling lives There is no health without mental health that is vital to individuals families communities and societies across the world and so the goal of this Research Topic is to collate ideas and research of strategies for the promotion of mental health across all disciplines in order to raise awareness of mental health promotion and protection to ensure it s incorporation in national mental health policies going forwards This is of particular relevance given the mental health crisis being experienced across the world right now
