Investing in the Age of Democracy Morten Arisson, 2018-09-06 This book offers a structured deductive approach to Austrian investing beginning with an analysis of the current investing paradigm There are five economic concepts on which the Austrian School of Economics has a unique view Entrepreneurship Class Probability Capital the Interest Rate and Institutions This book explains lesson by lesson how each of theses shapes our thinking about investing If we follow them through their logical consequences they leave us with a unique approach to investing Except for the theory of probability there has not been a comprehensive analysis of the linkages between these concepts when it comes to investing Although they would have been obvious to the average investor before the age of democracy since the French and American revolutions government interventions have steadily transformed the way we think about them and the way we invest Above all Entrepreneurship and Institutions are downplayed today while investors use Case Probability and confuse the concepts of Money and Capital This book offers a historical review of these interventions to shed light on how we went from what was common sense to the status quo Offering a sometimes technical analysis the book examines a series of fundamental investment fallacies their origins and how not to fall for them A Wealth of Buildings: Marking the Rhythm of

English History Richard Barras, 2016-09-23 This two volume book explores how the great buildings of England bear witness to a thousand years of the nation s history In every age investment in iconic buildings reaches a climax when the prevailing mode of production is operating most effectively surplus wealth is most plentiful and the dominant class rules supreme During such periods of stability and prosperity the demand for new buildings is strong structural and stylistic innovations abound and there is fierce competition to build for lasting fame Each such climax produces a unique vintage of hegemonic buildings that are monuments to the wealth and power of those who ruled their world This second volume presents three case studies of iconic building investment from the eighteenth century to the present day During the eighteenth century the wealth of the great landed estates funded the golden age of country house building by aristocracy and gentry During the nineteenth century the Industrial Revolution unleashed an unprecedented wave of infrastructure investment and civic building by the ascendant capitalist class Since the late twentieth century the power of global financial capital has been symbolized by the relentless rise of city centre office towers A final chapter argues that these different forms of hegemonic building are a physical manifestation of the underlying rhythm of English history
