Lucy Crehan, 2016-12-01 As a teacher in an inner city school Lucy Crehan was exasperated with ever changing government policy claiming to be based on lessons from top performing education systems She resolved to find out what was really going on in the classrooms of countries whose teenagers ranked top in the world in reading maths and science Cleverlands documents Crehan's journey around the world weaving together her experiences with research on policy history psychology and culture to offer extensive new insights into what we can learn from these countries Self-Care and Stress

Management for Academic Well-Being Clarke, Karis L., 2022-06-24 Self care is a topic that is often challenging in education Educators are required to learn to teach advise and cope with organizational change as well as encourage their students to take responsibility for their actions say no identify burnout establish a network of family and friends schedule breaks do things they enjoy and take care of themselves physically However teachers often do not follow these guidelines themselves It is important that teachers allow themselves the time and space to do the same things that they insist their students do Moreover it is important that administrators recognize and support these efforts as well Self Care and Stress Management for Academic Well Being discusses why self care for educators is needed in order for them to sustain the growth of the students at their institutions It explores the ways in which educators devote themselves to helping students develop their creativity and their academic voices but do not always give themselves the same permission Covering a range of topics such as physical care stress and self advocacy this reference work is ideal for researchers academicians practitioners scholars administrators instructors and students Illiterate America

Jonathan Kozol, 2011-11-02 It is startling and it is shaming in a country that prides itself on being among the most enlightened in the world 25 million American adults cannot read the poison warnings on a can of pesticide a letter from their child's teacher or the front page of a newspaper An additional 35 million read below the level needed to function successfully in our society The United States ranks forty ninth among 158 member nations of the UN in literacy and wastes over 100 billion annually as a result The problem is not merely an embarrassment it is a social and economic disaster In Illiterate America Jonathan Kozol author of National Book Award winning Death at an Early Age addresses this national disgrace Combining hard statistics and heartrending stories he describes the economic and the human costs of illiteracy Kozol analyses and condemns previous government action and inaction and in a passionate call for reform he proposes a specific program to conquer illiteracy One out of every three American adults cannot read this book which is why everyone else must Establishing and Sustaining Learning-Centered Community Colleges Christine Johnson McPhail,2005-01-31 Today s most prominent thought leaders weigh in on the learning paradigm calling for institutional change and responsibility for learning positive outcomes This book helps leaders develop structures and processes that allow for more flexibility and creativity Explore all facets of the learning paradigm from developing a change receptive environment and engaging constituencies to strategic planning governance and more
