George Rodger On The Road 1940 1949:

George Rodger, Unterwegs 1940 - 1949 George Rodger, 2009 The Temptation of Despair Werner Sollors, 2014-04-28 In Germany the end of World War II calls forth images of obliterated cities hungry refugees and ghostly monuments to Nazi crimes Drawing on diaries photographs essays reports fiction and film Werner Sollors makes visceral the sorrow and anger guilt and pride despondency and resilience of a defeated people and the paradoxes of occupation

Werner Sollors Reader Werner Sollors, 2025-01-31 Born in Silesia raised in the Frankfurt area and educated in Berlin Werner Sollors has spent most of his career at Harvard University in the United States and is regarded in Cornel West's words as one of the finest scholars that we have on race and cultural hybridity in both this country and the world This Reader offers the first comprehensive overview of the work of a central figure in the field of ethnic studies The pieces collected here range from Puritan New England to contemporary Germany from Exodus to Mary Antin's Promised Land from the Curse of Ham to Teju Cole They attest to Sollors' deep historical sensibilities his attention to textual detail and his awareness of the costs and opportunities of both cosmopolitan ideals and particularist commitments whilst addressing a central question why does modernisation take the form of ethnicisation in many places around the globe The collected essays are complemented by a detailed introduction by Daniel G Williams which foregrounds some of the key emphases and tensions in Sollors' writings

George Rodger Carole Naggar, 2003-10-01 He was a trailblazing twentieth century British photojournalist but George Rodger lived in the adventurous tradition of nineteenth century explorers Cofounding Magnum Photos in 1947 with Henri Cartier Bresson and Robert Capa the modest Rodger was eclipsed by his partners until now Rodger's Indiana Jones style escapades are legendary and worth the telling He once covered over 75 000 miles of old Africa in a Land Rover He even survived a white rhino charge He went on to become a key photographer of African tribal life During World War II he covered sixty one countries for Life magazine He was chased through three hundred miles of Burmese jungles by both the Japanese army and a tribe of headhunters And he was the first to record the liberation of the Bergen Belsen concentration camp He quit photography when he realized he was arranging thousands of Jewish corpses in nice photographic compositions In fascinating detail Carole Naggar not only recalls Roger's singular life and artistic contribution but she also provides an in depth look at the complex dynamics of ethics violence and photojournalism As such it places the legacy of George Rodger within a broader sociohistorical context British Journal of Photography, 2009 Observadores - Fotógrafos da cena britânica de 1930 até hoje, 2012 This is the first exhibition ever staged in Brazil to chart a course through British photography in modern times It spans almost a century from the new photographic directions of the 20s and 30s that developed alongside the emergence of mass media to the diverse practice of today's image laden world and features the work of many of Britain's most significant celebrated and influential photographers The exhibition takes Britain itself as subject its society and culture places and people presenting the work of those photographers who rather than looking at the world beyond or at inner worlds focused their attention on their own country on the customs character and conditions of those around them As such it explores a fertile and dominant strand of subject matter and a broad tradition of documentary practice which has always been at the core of British photography It explores the ways in which humanist and social documentary modes emerged as a dominant force the motivations and conditions that sustained these modes professional artistic and political and the ways in which they have been challenged changed and superseded The photographs on display draw on or work against a variety of visual codes clichés and conventions They cross genres from the urban street scene to landscape and the portrait and touch on an extraordinary range of subjects from celebrity and high society to gritty realism and subversive street culture Photographers adopt varied positions from detached voyeur to committed participant the photographs portray attitudes of nostalgia or rebellion moods of elation and despair Throughout the exhibition questions its own premises asking what if anything can be portrayed in images of the essential character of a people over time and it asks questions of the nature of the photographic medium itself and the uses to which it has been put British Council website
