Tillman,James Joseph Scheurich,2013-08-21 The rapid growth of diversity within U S schooling and the heightened attention to the lack of equity in student achievement school completion and postsecondary attendance has made equity and diversity two of the principle issues in education educational leadership and educational leadership research The Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity is the first research based handbook that comprehensively addresses the broad diversity in U S schools by race ethnicity culture language gender disability sexual identity and class The Handbook both highly values the critically important strengths and assets that diversity brings to the United States and its schools yet at the same time candidly critiques the destructive deficit thinking biases and prejudices that undermine school success for many groups of students Well known chapter authors explore diversity and related inequities in schools and the achievement problems these issues present to school leaders Each chapter reviews theoretical and empirical evidence of these inequities and provides research based recommendations for practice and for future research Celebrating the broad diversity in U S schools the Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity critiques the inequities connected to that diversity and provides evidence based practices to promote student success for all children      Successful Teaching David Schwarzer,Jamie Grinberg,2016-12-13 This edited volume provides novice teachers with a practical guide to help them transition from teacher education students to independent reflective and autonomous classroom teachers It also serves as a scaffolding tool for mentor teachers assigned to support novice teachers during their first years in the field Novice teachers can use this comprehensive resource as a way to connect the overarching conceptual themes and big ideas from their Teacher Education courses to their classroom practices This book is designed to encourage novice teachers to make more intentional and pedagogically sound decisions during their beginning teaching experiences whether it is fieldwork observations student teaching or the first years in the classroom The book covers a variety of issues including getting to know your students families and communities curriculum development and pedagogical decisions Each of these sections contain specific chapters devoted to a particular concept such as assessment instruction for diversity integrating technology across the curriculum action research and more This book serves as a bridge between pedagogical theory and the realities of the 21st century classroom     High-Poverty, High-Performing Schools Ovid K. Wong,2011-12-16 In a recent international comparative study the United States public schools did not fare well with the rest of the world To the disappointment of many the No Child Left Behind law did little to improve student achievement Nevertheless a small pocket of poverty schools worked against the odds of limited resources and performed to new heights of academic excellence These high poverty high performing schools were studied to identify the common trends and to reveal their secrets of success The secrets include a unique combination of leadership curriculum instruction assessment and evaluation Can the high poverty high performing schools be the success model of our next generation schools As concerned citizens and stakeholders of education we need to find out how our country can get back on track to become an educational leader again so we may compete in the fierce global economy     A Guide to Curriculum Mapping Janet A. Hale,2007-12-13 This practical step by step guide examines the stages of contemplating planning and implementing curriculum mapping initiatives that can improve student learning and create sustainable change     Resources in Education ,1997     A Mind At A Time Mel Levine,2012-12-11 Different minds learn differently writes Dr Mel Levine one of the best known education experts and paediatricians in America today And that s a problem for many children because most schools still cling to a one size fits all education philosophy In A MIND AT A TIME Dr Levine shows parents and others who care for children how to identify these individual learning patterns He explains how parents and teachers can encourage a child s strengths and bypass the child s weaknesses This type of teaching produces satisfaction and achievement instead of frustration and failure Different brains are differently wired with eight fundamental systems of learning that draw on a variety of neurodevelopmental capacities Certain students are strong in certain areas and some are strong in others but no one is equally capable in all eight Learning begins at school but it doesn t end there Frustrating a child s desire to learn will have lifelong repercussions We must begin to pay more attention to individual learning styles to individual minds urges Dr Levine so that we can maximise our children s learning potential A MIND AT A TIME shows us how     Always Becoming, Never Arriving David J. Mulder,2024-12-19 Does Jesus care how I arrange the desks in my classroom How I evaluate student work The way I interact with students and colleagues What if all these small moment by moment classroom decisions a Christian teacher makes are actually the evidence of living discipleship Teaching Christianly does not just happen it is the result of deliberate choices to work toward shrinking the gap between what we say we believe and what we actually do in our teaching This book is an exploration of the teaching profession through the lens of living out our calling through teaching as discipleship Whether you are new to the profession or a seasoned veteran you will find ideas to expand your imagination about what teaching Christianly looks like considering topics that run the range from professionalism and ethics to a biblical view of learners and learning to content knowledge and curriculum to planning instruction and assessment Teaching Christianly is a journey a process of growing as a more faithful disciple and more closely following Jesus day by day Learning to teach Christianly is an adventure of always becoming and never arriving until that day when we meet the Lord face to face Welcome to the adventure

A Mind at a Time Melvin D. Levine, 2002-04-03 Dr Levine offers advice to parents on learning abilities and educational development in children
