Claude Chabrol's Aesthetics of Opacity Catherine

Dousteyssier-Khoze, 2018-05-31 Examines how Cold War films depicted pertinent issues of American social class and gender

Claude Chabrol Christopher Beach, 2020-01-27 Claude Chabrol 1930 2010 was a founding member of the French New Wave the group of filmmakers that revolutionized French filmmaking in the late 1950s and early 1960s One of the most prolific directors of his generation Chabrol averaged more than one film per year from 1958 until his death in 2010 Among his most influential films Le Beau Serge Les Cousins and Les Bonnes Femmes established his central place within the New Wave canon In contrast to other filmmakers of the New Wave such as Jean Luc Godard and Eric Rohmer Chabrol exhibited simultaneously a desire to create films as works of art and an impulse to produce work that would be commercially successful and accessible to a popular audience The seventeen interviews in this volume most of which have been translated into English for the first time offer new insights into Chabrol's remarkably wide ranging filmography providing a sense of his attitudes and ideas about a number of subjects Chabrol shares anecdotes about his work with such actors as Isabelle Huppert Gerard Depardieu and Jean Yanne and offers fresh perspectives on other directors including Jean Luc Godard Fritz Lang and Alfred Hitchcock His mistrust of conventional wisdom often leads him to make pronouncements intended as much to shock as to elucidate and he frequently questions established ideas and normative attitudes toward moral ethical and social behaviors Chabrol's intelligence is far reaching moving freely between philosophy politics psychology literature and history and his iconoclastic spirit combined with his blend of sarcasm and self deprecating humor gives his interviews a tone that hovers between a high moral seriousness and a cynical sense of hilarity in the face of the world's complexities

Jewish Identity in French Cinema (1950-2010) Serge Bokobza, 2016-02-22 This book examines the expression of a Jewish identity in French films and the characteristics used by filmmakers to portray this nebulous concept in movies produced after the Shoah and World War II Throughout a sixty year span French directors struggled to define Jewish identity and a correlation with the larger question of French national identity The study delves into the larger question of Jewish identity as characterised in works of cinematic fiction in accordance with the history of the Jews of France using the centrality of the emancipation paradigm of 1791 and the theoretical frame provided by Jean Paul Sartre's Reflexions sur la question juive The book identifies and describes three categories of films produced between 1950 and 2010 that represent the manner in which directors portrayed an evolving Jewish identity and its relation to French society rejecting the practice of labeling a film as Jewish because of the ethnicity of a director or writer Based on extensive research including the review of over 200 full length films the book provides an overview of features addressing the concept of Jewish identity and includes a Descriptive Filmography of productions matching the author's definition of a Jewish identity film From the template La Grande Illusion to contemporary releases the book argues that French Jewish identity films dwell in the sociological realm of Jewishness as the epicenter of tension is rooted in identity rather than religion
