Love Triangle After The End:

Metacinema in Contemporary Chinese Film G. Andrew Stuckey, 2018-08-17 Depictions within a movie of either filmmaking or film watching are hardly novel but the dramatic expansion of the reach of the metacinematic into contemporary Chinese cinemas is nothing short of remarkable To G Andrew Stuckey the prevalence of metacinematic features forms the basis of a discourse on film arising from the films themselves Such a discourse in turn outlines the boundaries of the possible for film in China as aesthetic or sociopolitical practice Metacinema also draws our attention to the presence of the audience people actively responding to a film In elucidating the affective responses elicited by the metacinematic mode in the viewers Stuckey argues that metacinema reflects ways of being in the world that audiences may take up for themselves The films studied in this book are drawn across the full spectrum of Chinese films made in mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan during the 1990s and 2000s from award winning conceptual art films to popular crowd pleasers blockbusters to low budget productions and documentary style social realist expos projects to studio assembly line investments The recurrence of the metacinematic across this broad range of works is indicative of its relevance to Chinese films today and the analysis of these diverse examples allows us to gauge the cultural social and aesthetic implications of Chinese cinemas as a whole Stuckey surveys a broad swath of contemporary Chinese cinema from popular blockbusters to elite art films around the theme of metacinema yielding new insights into both previously neglected films and those already acknowledged as contemporary classics The result is a fascinating dive into the growing and diversifying cinema culture of China today Jason McGrath University of Minnesota Stuckey s brilliant work Metacinema in Contemporary Chinese Film offers insightful close analyses of films by key directors from the PRC Jiang Wen Lou Ye Jia Zhangke and Li Yu Hong Kong Peter Chan and Taiwan Tsai Ming liang This clearly written book is essential reading for scholars and students of Chinese cinemas Stuckey s study of genre and metacinema makes it a must read for anyone interested in cinema Michelle Bloom University of California Riverside

Aemilia Lanyer as Shakespeare's Co-Author Mark Bradbeer, 2022-03-31 This book presents original material which indicates that Aemilia Lanyer female writer feminist and Shakespeare contemporary is Shakespeare's hidden and arguably most significant co author Once dismissed as the mere paramour of Shakespeare's patron Lord Hunsdon she is demonstrated to be a most articulate forerunner of MeToo fury Building on previous research into the authorship of Shakespeare's works Bradbeer offers evidence in the form of three case studies which signal Aemilia's collaboration with Shakespeare The first case study matches the works of George Wilkins who is currently credited as the co author of the feminist Shakespeare play Pericles 1608 with Aemilia Lanyer's writing style education feminism and knowledge of Lord Hunsdon's secret sexual life The second case study recognizes Titus Andronicus 1594 a play containing the characters Aemilius and Bassianus to be a revision of the suppressed play Titus and Vespasian 1592 as authored by the unmarried pregnant Aemilia Bassano as she then was Lastly it is argued that Shakespeare's clowns Bottom Launce Malvolio Dromio Dogberry Jaques and Moth arise in her deeply personal war with the misogynist Thomas Nashe Each case study reveals new aspects of Lanyer's feminist activism and involvement in Shakespeare's work and allows for a deeper analysis and appreciation of the plays This research will prove provocative to students and scholars of Shakespeare studies English literature literary history and gender studies

After Memory Matthias Schwartz, Nina Weller, Heike Winkel, 2021-06-08 Even seventy five years after the end of World War II the commemorative cultures surrounding the War and the Holocaust in Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe are anything but fixed The fierce debates on how to deal with the past among the newly constituted nation states in these regions have already received much attention by scholars in cultural and memory studies The present volume posits that literature as a medium can help us understand the shifting attitudes towards World War II and the Holocaust in post Communist Europe in recent years These shifts point to new commemorative cultures shaping up after memory Contemporary literary representations of World War II and the Holocaust in Eastern Europe do not merely extend or replace older practices of remembrance and testimony but reflect on these now defunct or superseded narratives New narratives of remembrance are conditioned by a fundamentally new social and political context one that emerged from the devaluation of socialist commemorative rituals and as a response to the loss of private and family memory narratives The volume offers insights into the diverse literatures of Eastern Europe and their ways of depicting the area's contested heritage

The Thinking Space Leona Rittner, W. Scott Haine, 2016-03-03 The cafe is not only a place to enjoy a cup of coffee it is also a space distinct from its urban environment in which to reflect and take part in intellectual debate Since the eighteenth century in Europe intellectuals and artists have gathered in cafes to exchange ideas inspirations and information that has driven the cultural agenda for Europe and the world Without the cafe would there have been a Karl Marx or a Jean Paul Sartre The cafe as an institutional site has been the subject of renewed interest amongst scholars in the past decade and its role in the development of art ideas and culture has been explored in some detail However few have investigated the ways in which cafes create a cultural and intellectual space which brings together multiple influences and intellectual practices and shapes the urban settings of which they are a part

This volume presents an international group of scholars who consider caf s as sites of intellectual discourse from across Europe during the long modern period Drawing on literary theory history cultural studies and urban studies the contributors explore the ways in which cafes have functioned and evolved at crucial moments in the histories of important cities and countries notably Paris Vienna and Italy Choosing these sites allows readers to understand both the local particularities of each caf while also seeing the larger cultural connections between these places By revealing how the caf operated as a unique cultural context within the urban setting this volume demonstrates how space and ideas are connected As our global society becomes more focused on creativity and mobility the intellectual caf s of past generations can also serve as inspiration for contemporary and future knowledge workers who will expand and develop this tradition of using and thinking in space

The Problems of Viewing Performance Michael Y. Bennett, 2021-03-15 The Problems of Viewing Performance challenges long held assumptions by considering the ways in which knowledge is received by more than a single audience member and breaks new ground by counterintuitively claiming that viewing performance is not a shared experience Given that viewers come to each performance with differing amounts and types of knowledge they each make different assumptions as to how the performance will unfold Often modified by other viewers and often after the performance event knowledge of performance is made more accurate by superimposing the experiences and justified beliefs of multiple viewers These differences in the viewing experience make knowledge surrounding a performance intersubjective Ultimately this book explains the how and the why audience members have different viewing experiences The Problems of Viewing Performance is important reading for theatre and performance students scholars and practitioners as it unpacks the dynamics of spectatorship and explores how audiences work
