Mishkin 3rd Edition Solutions Money Banking:

The Islamic Finance Industry Burak Çıkıryel, Tawfik Azrak, 2023-05-26 Islamic finance has emerged to meet the financial needs of people who seek a different approach to conventional banking and finance. Due to its late inception, Islamic finance has often been regarded as an infant industry compared to its traditional counterparts. Even though the Islamic finance industry is still classified as nascent, it has shown rapid growth in the last decade or so. The primary objective of this book is to highlight the main issues and challenges the Islamic finance industry faces and to offer practical solutions. Firstly, the book classifies the main components of Islamic finance such as money and banking, capital markets, fintech, microfinance, insurance, as well as morality and governance. Secondly, all of the chapters are combined according to their relationship and link with each other so as to provide readers with a unique and holistic overview of the subject. The chapters are written by well-renowned experts in the field. As well as offering readers theoretical information about each subject under discussion, it also advances practical solutions that can contribute to the development of each field. The book answers questions such as how money is created by banks, what the business model of Islamic banking should look like, whether Islamic microfinance institutions are sustainable, what the likely framework of takaful should be, what the potential role of fintech could be in reshaping the Islamic financial system, and where and whether morality fits in the financial system. The book will attract the attention of students, researchers, practitioners, regulators, and policymakers.

Artificial Intelligence in Economics and Managment Phillip Ein-Dor, 2012-12-06 In the past decades, several researchers have developed statistical models for the prediction of corporate bankruptcy, e.g., Altman 1968 and Bilderbeek 1983. A model for predicting corporate bankruptcy aims to describe the relation between bankruptcy and a number of explanatory financial ratios. These ratios can be calculated from the information contained in a company's annual report. The aim is to obtain a method for timely prediction of bankruptcy, a so-called ultimate purpose called early warning system. More recently, this subject has attracted the attention of researchers in the area of machine learning, e.g., Shaw and Gentry 1990, Fletcher and Goss 1993, and Tam and Kiang 1992. This research is usually directed at the comparison of machine learning methods such as induction of classification trees and neural networks with the standard statistical methods of linear discriminant analysis and logistic regression. In earlier research, Feelders et al. 1994 performed a similar comparative analysis. The methods used were linear discriminant analysis, decision trees, and neural networks. We used a data set which contained 139 annual reports of Dutch industrial and trading companies. The experiments showed that the estimated prediction error of both the decision tree and neural network were below the estimated error of the linear discriminant. Thus, it seems that we can gain by replacing the traditionally used linear discriminant by a more flexible classification method to predict corporate bankruptcy. The data set used in these experiments was very small, however.
