Terrell,2012-09 America home of the brave and the free This is a well deserved description of America but it hardly describes the complexity of our great nation Describing America would be like describing a large moving picture that is constantly changing Each of its many components is different than all the others To understand America one would have to understand every individual in every culture in every community To leave out any piece of the big picture would distort America's image and deny the opportunity to know America itself This book gives the reader a piece of the big picture that represents a bygone era As a nation we have made a lot of progress over the years and we can be proud of our accomplishments but we should remember our roots are the foundation of our success Go back in time with the author to relive the old stories just as they happened in the 1940s 1950s and 1960s in rural Arkansas Experience the humor nostalgia and the tragedy of a bygone era Each reader will experience something different but will come away enlightened having enjoyed these glimpses of a simpler time North Mississippi Homeplace Michael Ford,2019-05-15 In the early 1970s photographer and documentary filmmaker Michael Ford left graduate school and a college teaching position in Boston Massachusetts packed his young family into a van and headed to rural Mississippi where he spent the next four years recording everyday life through interviews still photographs and film The project took him to Oxford in Lafayette County as well as to Marshall Panola and Tate Counties a remote area north of Sardis Lake His efforts resulted in the award winning documentary film Homeplace 1975 but none of the still photographs from this time were ever published With this illustrated volume those photographs are now available and offer a valuable window onto the rural local culture of northern Mississippi at that time These moving photographs illustrate Ford's experiences as an apprentice to blacksmith Marion Randolph Hall his visits to Hal Waldrip's General Store in Chulahoma a day spent with AG Newsom and his crew making molasses and Othar Turner's barbecues

accompanied by traditional African American fife and drum music They also capture the evocative landscape of the Mississippi hill country and the everyday lives of its residents In 2013 Ford returned to his adopted homeplace camera in hand only to find that most everything had changed or was gone This photo essay project juxtaposes the rural Mississippi of the 1970s and the mid 2010s with Ford s personal reflections drawn from his journals interviews and archival notes
