Righting Health Policy D. Robert MacDougall,2022-02-23 In Righting Health Policy D Robert MacDougall argues that bioethics needs but does not have adequate tools for justifying law and policy Bioethics tools are mostly theories about what we owe each other But justifying laws and policies requires more at a minimum it requires tools for explaining the legitimacy of actions intended to control or influence others It consequently requires political rather than moral philosophy After showing how bioethicists have consistently failed to use tools suitable for achieving their political aims MacDougall develops an interpretation of Kant s political philosophy On this account the legitimacy of health laws does not derive from the morality of the behaviors they require but derives instead from their role in securing our equal freedom from each other MacDougall uses this Kantian account to show the importance of political philosophy for bioethics First he shows how evaluating kidney markets in terms of the legitimacy of prohibiting sales rather than the morality of selling kidneys reverses the widely accepted view that Kantian philosophy supports legally prohibiting markets Second MacDougall argues that an account of political authority is necessary for settling longstanding bioethics debates about the legal and even moral standards that should govern informed consent

Buyondo,2024-10-31 In pursuing a holistic bioethics while dialoguing with different sciences appreciation of moral affinities between human and nonhuman entities Dr Buyondo argues for a minimum moral status for nonhuman entities The minimum normative basics of approaches to biomedical ethics are at the very least not distinctive to either human animals or nonhuman animals only The investigation builds further on the African understanding of life where no creation is lifeless In establishing a more inclusive functional bioethics the African approach goes further than biocentrism ecocentrism and holism to ground an inclusive African holistic moral egalitarianism suggesting that all forces and all created things have life We are not emphasizing how every system and creature command equal respect rather everything has life commands respect and moral concern as a minimum imperative within a Black African holistic approach to bioethics However holistic bioethics can neither be Western nor an African invention that people of other cultures only admire from a distance Moreover holistic bioethics doesn't offer the last word on the ethics of nonhuman animals holistic anamnestic solidarity the relational Other and intercultural theological bioethics Philosophies and Theories for Advanced Nursing Practice Janie B.
