provides teachers scholars essayists and readers with the materials they need to take a fresh look at this important but often overlooked form that has for too long been relegated to the role of service genre used primarily to write about other more literary genres or to teach young people how to write Here in a single celebratory volume are four centuries of commentary and theory reminding us of the essay s storied history its international appeal and its relationship not just with poetry and fiction but also with radio film video and new media Getting Personal Laura Gray-Rosendale, 2018-01-29 Addresses how digital forms of personal writing can be most effectively used by teachers students and other community members At a time when Twitter Facebook blogs Instagram and other social media dominate our interactions with one another and with our world the teaching of writing also necessarily involves the employment of multimodal approaches visual literacies and online learning Given this new digital landscape how do we most effectively teach and create various forms of personal writing within our rhetoric and composition classes our creative writing classes and our community groups Contributors to Getting Personal offer their thoughts about some of the positives and negatives of teaching and using personal writing within digital contexts They also reveal intriguing teaching activities that they have designed to engage their students and other writers In addition they share some of the innovative responses they have received to these assignments Getting Personal is about finding ways to teach and use personal writing in the digital age that can truly empower writing teachers writing students as well as other community members Getting Personal offers an engaging comprehensive view of how and why instructors in both creative and academic writing can integrate contemporary writing and communication practices into their classrooms assignments and curricula Jill Talbot editor of Metawritings Toward a Theory of Nonfiction I am right now rethinking some of my assumptions about what it means to do and to teach personal writing especially in digital environments I m also taken with the fact that while the chapters are clearly academic they are also personal and while several of them explicitly call the false binary between the personal and the academic into question my sense is that they themselves do so implicitly as well Barry M Maid coauthor of The McGraw Hill Guide Writing for College Writing for Life Fourth Edition On the Familiar Essay G. Atkins, 2009-10-26 Rooted in close reading of texts including the essays of E B White this comprehensive assessment of the oft slighted subform of the literary essay situates the familiar at the heart of the essay as form Lake Garda Nick Ceramella, 2013-11-13 Comes over one an absolute necessity to move This opening sentence of Sea and Sardinia 1921 is strikingly telling about D H Lawrence's life which can be considered both literally and metaphorically as a journey to the sun In this respect as the title of our symposium Lake Garda Gateway to D H Lawrence s Voyage to the Sun suggests he began his life long quest in Gargnano in 1912 This eponymous book draws together the papers presented at the Gargnano Symposium in 2012 to commemorate the centenary of the writer's stay in that paradise 3 September 1912 11 April 1913 The focus of our event was on Lawrence's sun search and travelling two thought provoking multifaceted topics for a sparkling critical debate expanding outside canonic criticism into music and painting This collection in fact comes with a CD featuring

12 songs poems by Lawrence put to music for soprano and piano by the American composer William Neil It also includes the reproduction of seven paintings from Via D H Lawrence out of a sequence of 25 in which the German painter Sabine Frank follows the writer's footsteps in the Garda area. The result is a unique and stimulating book combining literature music and painting Thus it provides an invaluable enrichment for all of us meant to inspire intellectual confrontation and circulation of ideas in the domain of Laurentian studies This is the sort of book that any Laurentian reading either for academic purposes or pleasure cannot possibly miss The Authority to Imagine Maria Piantanida, 2006 Textbook The Made-Up Self Carl H. Klaus, 2010-04-15 The human presence that animates the personal essay is surely one of the most beguiling of literary phenomena for it comes across in so familiar a voice that it s easy to believe we are listening to the author rather than a textual stand in But the person in a personal essay is always a written construct a fabricated character its confessions and reminiscences as rehearsed as those of any novelist In this first book length study of the personal essay Carl Klaus unpacks this made up self and the manifold ways in which a wide range of essayists and essays have brought it to life By reconceiving the most fundamental aspect of the personal essay the I of the essayist Klaus demonstrates that this seemingly uncontrived form of writing is inherently problematic not willfully devious but bordering upon the world of fiction He develops this key idea by explaining how structure style and voice determine the nature of a persona and our perception of it in the works of such essayists as Michel de Montaigne Charles Lamb E B White and Virginia Woolf Realizing that this persona is shaped by the force of culture and the impress of personal experience he explores the effects of both upon the point of view content and voice of such essayists as George Orwell Nancy Mairs Richard Rodriguez and Alice Walker Throughout in full command of the history of the essay he calls up numerous passages in which essayists themselves acknowledge the element of impersonation in their work drawing upon the perspectives of Joan Didion Edward Hoagland Joyce Carol Oates Leslie Marmon Silko Scott Russell Sanders Annie Dillard Vivian Gornick Loren Eiseley James Baldwin and a host of other literary guides Finally adding yet another layer to the made up self Klaus succumbs to his addiction to the personal essay by placing some of the different selves that various essayists have called forth in him within the essays that he has crafted so carefully for this book Making his way from one essay to the next with a persona variously learned whimsical and poignant he enacts the palimpsest of ways in which the made up self comes to life in the work of a single essayist Thus over the course of this highly original beautifully structured study the personal essay is revealed to be more complex than many readers have supposed With its lively analyses and illuminating examples The Made Up Self will speak to anyone who wishes to Understanding the Essay Patricia Foster, Jeff Porter, 2012-07-25 This is a book on understand or to write personal essays how to read the essay one that demonstrates how reading is inextricably tied to the art of writing It aims to treat the essay with the close attention that has been given to other literary genres and in doing so it suggests the beauty and depth of the form as a whole At once personal appreciations and acute critical assessments the pieces collected here broaden our
