FREE APPLICATION for FEDERAL STUDENT AID

July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016

Federal Student Aid

AN OFFICE OF THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

PROUD SPONSOR of the AMERICAN WIND®

Use this form to apply free for federal and state student grants, work-study, and loans.

Or apply free online at www.fafsa.gov.

Applying by the Deadlines

For federal aid, submit your application as early as possible, but no earlier than January 1, 2015. We must receive your application no later than June 30, 2016. Your college must have your correct, complete information by your last day of enrollment in the 2015-2016 school year.

For state or college aid, the deadline may be as early as January 2015. See the table to the right for state deadlines. You may also need to complete additional forms.

Check with your high school guidance counselor or a financial aid administrator at your college about state and college sources of student aid and deadlines.

If you are filing close to one of these deadlines, we recommend you file online at www.fafsa.gov. This is the fastest and easiest way to apply for aid.

Using Your Tax Return

We recommend that you complete and submit your FAFSA as soon as possible on or after January 1, 2015. If you (or your parents) need to file a 2014 income tax return with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), and have not done so yet, you can submit your FAFSA their family's autonomy to gain a leg up in this competition. In the American ideal, family life is a sacred and private sphere distinct from the outside world. But in our hypercompetitive times, Feeney shows parents have become increasingly willing to let the inner life of the family be colonized by outside forces that promise better futures for their kids: prestigious preschools, educational technologies, youth sports leagues, a multitude of enrichment activities, and most of all, college. A provocative eye-opening book for any parent who suspects their kids' stuffed schedules are not serving their best interests, Little Platoons calls us to rediscover the distinctive, profound solidarity of family life. — Making College Work, Harry J. Holzer, Sandy Baum, 2017-08-15

Practical solutions for improving higher education opportunities for disadvantaged students. Too many disadvantaged college students in America do not complete their coursework or receive any college credential while others earn degrees or certificates with little labor market value. Large numbers of these students also struggle to pay for college and some incur debts that they have difficulty repaying. The authors provide a new review of the causes of these problems and offer promising policy solutions. The circumstances affecting disadvantaged students stem both from issues on the individual side such as weak academic preparation and financial pressures and from institutional failures. Low-income students disproportionately attend schools that are underfunded and have weak performance incentives contributing to unsatisfactory outcomes for many students. Some solutions including better financial aid or academic supports target individual students. Other solutions such as stronger linkages between coursework and the labor market and more structured paths through the curriculum are aimed at institutional reforms. All students and particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds also need better and varied pathways both to college and directly to the job market beginning in high school. We can improve college outcomes but must also acknowledge that we must make hard choices and face difficult tradeoffs in the process. While no single policy is guaranteed to greatly improve college and career outcomes, implementing a number of evidence-based policies and programs together has the potential to improve these outcomes substantially. — Colleges That Pay You Back, 2017 Edition, Princeton Review, Robert Franek, 2017
