The Impacts of Automotive Plant Closure Andrew Beer, Holli Evans, 2013-09-13 Economic restructuring has been a notable feature of so called mature industrial economies such as the UK and Australia in the last two decades with deregulation privatisation technological change and globalisation combining to reshape such economies Some industries have grown while others have declined Moreover while overall employment in the UK and Australia has grown many newly created positions require skills not found in the industries shedding labour or are in casualised and low paid occupations Many lesser skilled workers leaving declining industries are therefore at risk of long term unemployment or leaving the workforce entirely Both mental and physical health can be affected after redundancy It is therefore crucial that the measures put in place in many domains of social policy such as formal health policy employment assistance community development housing assistance and so on to adequately address the difficulties confronting this group This volume takes a closer look at the impact of manufacturing notably automotive plant closures in the UK Birmingham and Australia Adelaide in recent years and policy responses to those closures It attempts to tease out differences in policy response and effectiveness and attempts to identify areas where policy could be made to work better in terms of adjusting to large scale manufacturing change and resulting job losses In so doing it begins for the first time we believe to take a comparative approach to understanding the impact of plant closures and policy responses This book was published as a special issue of Policy Studies

Financialization and Strategy Julie Froud, Sukhdev Johal, Adam Leaver, Karel Williams, 2006-04-18 Considering the recent impact of the capital market on corporate strategy this text analyzes through argument and supportive case studies how pressures from the capital bull market of the 1990s and bear market of the early 2000s have reshaped management action and calculation in large publicly quoted US and UK corporations Beginning with the dissatisfaction with classical strategy and its limited engagement with the processes of financialization the book moves on to cover three detailed company case studies General Electric Ford and GlaxoSmithKline which use long run financial data and analysis of company and industry narratives to illustrate and explore key themes The book emphasizes the importance of company and industry narrative while also analyzing long term financial results and helps to explain the limits of management action and the burden of expectations placed on corporate governance Presenting financial and market information on trajectory in an accessible way this book provides a distinctive critical social science account of management in large UK and US corporations and it is a valuable resource for students scholars and researchers of business management political economy and non mainstream economics short listed for the 2007 IPEG Book Prize
