Productivity in Higher Education Caroline M. Hoxby, Kevin Stange, 2020-01-10 How do the benefits of higher education compare with its costs and how does this comparison vary across individuals and institutions These questions are fundamental to quantifying the productivity of the education sector The studies in Productivity in Higher Education use rich and novel administrative data modern econometric methods and careful institutional analysis to explore productivity issues The authors examine the returns to undergraduate education differences in costs by major the productivity of for profit schools the productivity of various types of faculty and of outcomes the effects of online education on the higher education market and the ways in which the productivity of different institutions responds to market forces The analyses recognize five key challenges to assessing productivity in higher education the potential for multiple student outcomes in terms of skills earnings invention and employment the fact that colleges and universities are multiproduct firms that conduct varied activities across many domains the fact that students select which school to attend based in part on their aptitude the difficulty of attributing outcomes to individual institutions when students attend more than one and the possibility that some of the benefits of higher education may arise from the system as a whole rather than from a single institution The findings and the approaches illustrated can facilitate decision making processes in higher education

The Effect of Education System and School Characteristics on the Gender Gap in Competencies Laura Zapfe, 2023-11-30 Laura Zapfe's aim is to explain how education system and school characteristics affect the gender gap in mathematics and reading competencies She adapts the macro meso micro model At the micro level she uses theories e.g. gender specific socialization highlighting how gender specific expectations and stereotypes cause gendered interest and skills and therefore gender differences in mathematics and reading Deriving a macro meso micro link she explains how education system characteristics such as competition differentiation and standardization and school characteristics could increase or decrease the gender specific socialization effects leading to larger or smaller gender gaps in mathematics and reading competencies On this basis she performs a cross national comparison of 78 countries participating in the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA 2018 combined with further researched macro data with three level mixed effects models The results show that boys have an advantage in mathematics girls have an advantage in reading the gender effects are slightly higher for reading and the gender effects at the school level are more pronounced than those at the country level Facing Forward Sajitha Bashir,Marlaine Lockheed,Elizabeth Ninan,Jee-Peng Tan,2018-09-20 Facing Forward lays out a range of policy and implementation actions that are needed for countries in Sub Saharan Africa to meet the challenge of improving learning while expanding access and completion of basic education for all The book underscores the importance of aligning the education system to be relentlessly focused on learning outcomes and to ensuring that all children have access to good schools good learning materials and good teachers It is unique in characterizing countries according to the challenges they faced in the 1990s and the educational progress they have made over the past 25 years allowing countries in the region to learn from each other The authors review the global literature and add to it by their extensive new analyses of multiple datasets from more than three dozen countries in the region they integrate findings about what affects children s learning their access to schooling and progress through basic education The book draws lessons from the region and for the region about what works and what is needed to better implement what is known to have worked The book examines four areas to help countries better align their systems to improve learning 1 completing the unfinished agenda of reaching universal basic education with quality 2 ensuring effective management and support of teachers 3 targeting spending priorities and budget processes on improving quality and 4 closing the institutional capacity gap It concludes with an assessment of how future educational progress may be affected by projected fertility rates and economic growth Value for Money in School Education Smart Investments, Quality Outcomes, Equal Opportunities OECD,2022-11-29 Policymaking has always been a matter of making choices managing trade offs and balancing multiple goals and priorities to make complex budgetary decisions Yet the past few years have seen a rising number of priorities facing policymakers hence mounting pressure to enhance the efficiency of public spending El sector de las industrias extractivas Håvard Halland,Martin Lokanc,Arvind Nair,Sridar Padmanabhan Kannan,2016-03-15 El sector de las industrias extractivas IE ocupa un lugar considerable en las economías de muchos países en desarrollo Los economistas y los profesionales de las finanzas públicas que trabajan en estos países suelen enfrentarse a problemas que exigen un entendimiento profundo del sector su economía su buen gobierno y los desafíos en materia de políticas como a las consecuencias de la abundancia de recursos naturales para la gestión fiscal y de las finanzas públicas El objetivo del estudio de tres volúmenes denominado Essentials for Economists and Public Finance Professionals publicado en la serie de estudios realizados por el Banco Mundial es presentar un panorama general conciso de los temas relacionados con las IE que estos profesionales probablemente deban encarar En el primer volumen The Extractive Industries Sector se ofrece una reseña general de las cuestiones fundamentales para la economía de las IE se analizan los componentes principales del buen gobierno las políticas y los marcos institucionales del sector y se identifican las obligaciones de financiamiento del sector público relacionadas con las IE El análisis de la economía de las IE abarca la valuación

Access, Quality, and the Global Learning Crisis Sarah Kabay, 2021-08-26 Around the world 250 million children cannot read write or perform basic mathematics They represent almost 40% of all primary school aged children This situation has come to be called the global learning crisis and it is one of the most critical challenges facing the world today Work to address this situation depends on how it is understood Typically the global learning crisis and efforts to improve primary education are defined in relation to two terms access and quality This book is focused on the connection between them Through a mixed methods case study it provides detailed contextualized analysis of Ugandan primary education As one of the first countries in Sub Saharan Africa to enact dramatic and far reaching primary education policy Uganda serves as a compelling case study With both quantitative and qualitative data from over 400 Ugandan schools and communities the book analyzes grade repetition private primary schools and school fees viewing each issue as an illustration of the connection between access to education and education quality This analysis

finds evidence of a positive association challenging a key assumption that there is a trade off or disconnect between efforts to improve access to education and efforts to improve education quality Embracing the complexity of education systems and focusing on dynamics where improvements in access and quality can be mutually reinforcing can be a new approach for improving basic education in different contexts around the world
