WINDUP: To increase AC terminal voltage to increase AC terminal voltage and anticlockwise to decrease AC terminal voltage, IR is required to adjust generator voltage from remote location then a 1 KΩ 1 W potentiometer can be connected in series with sensing phase IR of AVR. Using 1 K potentiometer voltage can be varied in the range of 0 to 100 V.

1987-1988

STAB: Stability potentiometer is factory set such that optimum response of voltage recovery is achieved during sudden load changes. In some cases in order to release burden on engine it is required to sluggish the recovery time of voltage, therefore to increase the response time STAB potentiometer is carefully rotated in clockwise direction. Sudden load change will increase recovery in longer clip of time. In order to reduce sudden load, kindly note that by excessively rotating STAB potentiometer to clock wise direction at one stage will cause voltage fluctuation. Again by gradually rotating the STAB pot to anti clock wise direction will stabilize the generator voltage. It is not

UFRO:
The under frequency roll off (UFRO) is factory set at 47 Hz for 50 Hz generator. For 50 Hz generator cut link wire to set less: point to 57 Hz. Load adjustment module (LAM) will be activated at 47 Hz or 57 Hz. LAM causes the voltage to drop by 15%, which has to be reset to normal voltage. The LAM is set and rpm will start time. It is possible to select UFRO protection level 45 Hz to 50 Hz. Rotating UFRO potentiometer clock wise direction will set UFRO level in increasing frequency direction and rotating in anti clock wise direction will set to decrease frequency. UFRO & LAM anti-logic is indicated by UFR LED.

Excitation field current exceeding its specified limit indirectly indicates alternator over load. AVR has in built accurate current sensing circuitry to protect alternator windings from over load. DC field current monitored by AVR circuitry will cut off field supply after 20-25 seconds when field current exceeds preset value. The over excitation trip level is factory set to 7 ADC. It will be required to set trip level as specified by excitation current on alternator name plate. The OE potentiometer is factory set to full clock wise direction ( 7 A DC). By rotating the potentiometer to anti clock wise direction will set DC current trip level from 7 A DC downwards to 0 A DC. Vice versa rotating OE potentiometer to clock wise direction will set trip level from 0 A DC upwards to 7 A DC. There are two methods to set trip level. First method is to load the generator to full load and then rotate OE potentiometer and clock wise direction till OE LED turns ON. Once OE LED turns ON the timer will be activated and after 20-25 seconds field supply will be cut off. Second method is to connect a DC ammeter in between IF1 & field wire, now load the generator such that required DC current is observed on ammeter and then rotate OE potentiometer to set DC current such that OE LED turns ON and this will set OE trip as required DC current.

CONCLUSIONS

If it is required to synchronize more than one generator, so that system capacity can be increased, it is necessary that power sharing between all generators is equal. Quadrature droop method is used to control reactive current of generators. A current transformer with secondary current of 1 A at full load of generator is connected third phase of generator which is not used for sensing of  $\Delta V$ . The direction of secondary current should be such that droop is in the same direction as the droop of the generator. This is shown in Fig. 10.
