Working Group II., 2007 The Climate Change 2007 volumes of the Fourth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC provide the most comprehensive and balanced assessment of climate change available This IPCC Working Group II volume provides a completely up to date scientific assessment of the impacts of climate change the vulnerability of natural and human environments and the potential for response through adaptation Written by the world's leading experts the IPCC volumes will again prove to be invaluable for researchers students and policymakers and will form the standard reference works for policy decisions for government and industry worldwide Cumulated Index Medicus, 1974 Resources in Education, 1989 Population Dynamics and Projection Methods John Stillwell, Martin Clarke, 2011-02-15 Although the human population growth rate of the world has been declining since peaking in the early 1960s the populations of individual countries are changing at different rates Population dynamics at national level are partly determined by levels of fertility and mortality but the impact of international migration is playing an increasingly important role Moreover internal migration plays a major part in population change at the sub national level This fourth volume in the series Understanding Population Trends and Processes is a celebration of the work of Professor Philip Rees It contains chapters by contributors who have collaborated with Phil Rees on research or consultancy projects or as postgraduate students Several chapters demonstrate the technical nature of population projection modelling and simulation methods while others illustrate issues relating to data availability and estimation This book demonstrates the application of theoretical and modelling methods and addresses key issues relating to contemporary demographic patterns and trends Selected References on Environmental Quality as it Relates to Health, 1971 Forest, Field, and Fallow Antoinette M.G.A. WinklerPrins, Kent Mathewson, 2021-01-12 This volume aims to present the essential work of geographer and historical ecologist William M Denevan to explain the impact and influence his thinking had on the conceptual advancement not only in his own discipline but in a range of related disciplines such as anthropology archaeology and environmental history The book is organized around eight themes demonstrating Denevan's early and profound insights on topics that remain of current relevance today and the scholarly impact his writing had on subsequent scholarship. The book is unique because it offers commentary from active scholars who address the impacts of Prof Denevan's thinking and work on contemporary environmental and ecological issues with a focus on several groundbreaking themes e.g. historical demography, agricultural landforms, cultural plant geography, human environmental impacts, indigenous agro-ecology, tropical agriculture, livestock and landscape and synthetic contributions. This book will be of interest to a range of scholars in geography, anthropology, archaeology, history and ecology as well as to environmental managers and practitioners especially those working for non-profit organizations and government organizations tasked with finding ways to adapt to global environmental change.

Technology Entrepreneurship and Sustainable Development Pradeep Ray, Rajib Shaw, 2022-06-16. This book discusses the need for entrepreneurship for sustainable development from the perspective of Asia, the fastest growing region in the world. The world is now witnessing a spectacular rise of technology entrepreneurship involving mobile phones, artificial intelligence, geospatial information systems and social media. On the other hand, governments all over the world, particularly those in low and medium income countries, are facing severe resource constraints in developing the livelihood and well-being of citizens. Although many non-government organizations (NGOs) have worked on various development projects in a number of social sectors such as health, education, disabilities, poverty alleviation and environment, there is still substantial scope for technological innovation including more efficient, effective and user-friendly solutions in different parts of the world. This book is organized into 2 parts and consists of 17 chapters. The first part explores education and well-being and the second part discusses the climate, environment and disaster management.

Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Global and Sectoral Aspects Christopher B. Field, Vicente R. Barros, 2014-12-29. This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students, researchers and policy makers in environmental science, meteorology, climatology, biology, ecology, atmospheric chemistry and environmental policy.
