Information Algebras Jürg Kohlas, 2003 Information usually comes in pieces from different sources It refers to different but related questions Therefore information needs to be aggregated and focused onto the relevant questions Considering combination and focusing of information as the relevant operations leads to a generic algebraic structure for information This book introduces and studies information from this algebraic point of view Algebras of information provide the necessary abstract framework for generic inference procedures They allow the application of these procedures to a large variety of different formalisms for representing information At the same time they permit a generic study of conditional independence a property considered as fundamental for knowledge presentation Information algebras provide a natural framework to define and study uncertain information Uncertain information is represented by random variables that naturally form information algebras This theory also relates to probabilistic assumption based reasoning in information systems and is the basis for the belief functions in the Dempster Shafer theory of evidence

Time-Like Graphical Models Tvrtko Tadić, 2019-12-02 The author studies continuous processes indexed by a special family of graphs Processes indexed by vertices of graphs are known as probabilistic graphical models In 2011 Burdzy and Pal proposed a continuous version of graphical models indexed by graphs with an embedded time structure so called time like graphs The author extends the notion of time like graphs and finds properties of processes indexed by them In particular the author solves the conjecture of uniqueness of the distribution for the process indexed by graphs with infinite number of vertices The author provides a new result showing the stochastic heat equation as a limit of the sequence of natural Brownian motions on time like graphs In addition the author s treatment of time like graphical models reveals connections to Markov random fields martingales indexed by directed sets and branching Markov processes
