The Georgia Humanities Council presents a guidebook with cultural historical and regional coverage of Georgia Adventures of the Spirit Clark M. Williamson, Ronald J. Allen, 1997 This book offers an introduction to worship from the standpoint of process theology It helps worship planners develop services of worship that are characterized by an intense vision of community with God where depth of feeling surmounts verbal language and touch the believer in the most life shaping ways Process conceptuality allows the church to move toward genuinely contemporary worship while drawing from the past explaining how worship is understood in this Christian tradition and moving to practical approaches such as conceiving the service preparing the prayers the liturgy and the sermon the sacraments the wedding and the funeral and the arts role in worship The ultimate goal is not only to show how process theology can inform each aspect of the service of worship but to help the Christian community deepen its apprehension of God through services of worship Deep and Wide Evan B. Howard, 2023-05-02 Commitment to a life of prayer and community can prove to be a great help for those involved in politics Rather than being distracted away from action Evan B Howard argues that committed Christians often find both freedom and empowerment to contribute to the greater good of the world A review of the history of committed Christian life monasticism shows that devout communities have engaged in a wide range of socio political arenas We can explore today what nuns and monks have accomplished in the past We can speak into political conversations We can care for those in need We can model new ways of ordering life together We can take concrete political action in governmental process We can pray This book blends examination of history with musings about the Christian life and politics generally It also offers a collection of monastic practices to equip communities and individuals to embody an appropriate blend of deep and wide for themselves

Religion, Food, and Eating in North America Benjamin E. Zeller, Marie W. Dallam, Reid L. Neilson, Nora L

Rubel, 2014-03-11 The way in which religious people eat reflects not only their understanding of food and religious practice but also their conception of society and their place within it This anthology considers theological foodways identity foodways negotiated foodways and activist foodways in the United States Canada and the Caribbean Original essays explore the role of food and eating in defining theologies and belief structures creating personal and collective identities establishing and challenging boundaries and borders and helping to negotiate issues of community religion race and nationality Contributors consider food practices and beliefs among Christians Jews Muslims and Buddhists as well as members of new religious movements Afro Caribbean religions interfaith families and individuals who consider food itself a religion They traverse a range of geographic regions from the Southern Appalachian Mountains to North America s urban centers and span historical periods from the colonial era to the present These essays contain a variety of methodological and theoretical perspectives emphasizing the embeddedness of food and eating practices within specific religions and the embeddedness of religion within society and culture The volume makes an excellent resource for scholars hoping to add greater depth to their research and for instructors seeking a thematically rich vivid and relevant tool for the classroom Agreeable Agreement Minna

Hietamäki,2010-02-18 In recent bilateral ecumenical dialogue the aim of the dialogue has been to reach some form of doctrinal consensus The three major chapters of the book discuss the variety of forms of doctrinal consensus found in ecumenical dialogues among Anglicans Lutherans and Roman Catholics In general the dialogue documents argue for agreement consensus based on commonality or compatibility Each of the three dialogue processes has specific characteristics and formulates its argument in a unique way The Lutheran Roman Catholic dialogue has a particular interest in hermeneutical questions and proposes various forms of differentiated or perspectival forms of consensus The Anglican Roman Catholic dialogue emphasises the correctness of interpretations The documents consciously look towards a common future not the separated past Fruits of the Cotton Patch Kirk Lyman-Barner,Cori Lyman-Barner,2014-07-11 In honor of what would have been Clarence Jordan s one hundredth birthday and the seventieth anniversary of Koinonia Farm the first Clarence Jordan Symposium convened in historic Sumter County Georgia in 2012 gathering theologians historians actors and activists in civil rights housing agriculture and fair trade businesses to celebrate a remarkable individual and his continuing influence Clarence Jordan 1912 1969 a farmer and New Testament Greek scholar was the author of the Cotton Patch versions of the New Testament and the founder of Koinonia Farm a small but influential religious community in southwest Georgia Fruits of the Cotton Patch Volume 2 contains Symposium presentations that interpret Jordan s storytelling and the meaning of his prophetic voice in the areas of peacemaking in the context of historical harms the future of the affordable housing movement and the direction of the New Monastic movement These essays and others invite the curious the student and the teacher alike to experience the life and work of Clarence Jordan and its powerful connection to the present The Intentional Community Movement Marguerite Guzman Bouvard,1975 Mission as Hospitality Edward L. Smither,2021-01-05 God is a missionary God God is also hospitable in his nature He makes his enemies friends and invites them to intimate communion The mission of God in Scripture often occurs through hospitality when God s people encounter the not yet people of God at table or in hospitable environments and invite them to believe This motif of mission as hospitality plays out through the Old and New Testament Scriptures and through the Eucharist It can also be observed through the witness of monks and contemporary missionaries who embraced a hospitable approach to mission For the church to participate in God s mission today a vision to win conquer or change the world should be exchanged for a conviction to welcome the stranger and make room for others while proclaiming the gospel that is to imitate the hospitable God in mission

The Substance of Faith Clarence Jordan,2005-08-16 To read The Substance of Faith is once again to experience Clarence Jordan at his best the flashing wit that could illuminate even as it entertained the blazing concern that knew how to lay its burden on the heart of even the casual listener the biting irony that pierced sham and pretense the depth of spirit that saw fresh meaning in the most familiar passage of Scripture Within the pages of this book you ll discover the basic themes of Clarence Jordan s life Incarnational Evangelism the God Movement and his prophetic insight into the enemies of authentic faith such as Mammon Dallas Lee has brought all this together from what Clarence Jordan said in pulpit classroom and lecture hall

The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa F. Latini, 2011 Contemporary society is in crisis its structures broken and fragmented and its people overstimulated overstressed and thirsty for true communion with the sacred and with one another Yet although more than eighty five percent of congregations in the United States conduct small group ministry too many of these groups begin with no clear sense of purpose structure or spiritual focus and end by veering away from Christian tradition and unknowingly settling for shallow versions of popular Christianity In The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa Latini lays out both a theoretical groundwork and a practical guideline for successful small group ministry Examining the latest sociological research and the real life practices of small groups in six congregations she shows how well developed groups those with mission statements leadership training and solid organizational structure can be a truly effective tool in the church s work of transforming broken and shallow forms of community into life giving life sustaining relationships with God and others

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1984-03 Useful Wisdom Anthony B. Robinson, 2020-03-18 We ve got a list of questions issues stuff we re dealing with We want your input your thoughts on this stuff Such were the origins of this little book Two young clergy early in their first call imagined that I might have some useful wisdom to pass on based on my own years in ministry Something like this was once standard preparation Young people learned a profession like law ministry or medicine by apprenticing themselves to one seasoned in the practice Not only has that way of learning largely vanished but we now live in times of increasing segregation and suspicion between different generations Still these two millennials bucked the trends They thought they might have something to learn from an old boomer The result is this collection of letters personal wry direct and honest Full of both hope and realism about the church and ministry This collection will be a welcome companion for young and for many not so young clergy trying to get a handle on ministry in the midst of a time that is full of change and challenge

Progress in Unity? Martien E. Brinkman, 1995 As an expert and lively tour guide Brinkman takes the reader through the breathtaking landscape of a half century of ecumenical dialogue The author makes an invaluable contribution by his deft selection of documents his thought provoking commentary on key issues and his keen discernment of the missionary challenge that faces the church of Christ as it travels on the road to greater visible unity the work is equally suitable for personal reading and for the college or seminary classroom A veritable feast for ecumenical and evangelical readers This work is a refreshing stimulus to reflection prayer and action for the unity and mission of the church in a troubled world George Vandervelde President of the North American Academy of Ecumenists Professor of Systematic Theology Institute for Christian Studies Toronto Canada One thing becomes clear from Martien Brinkman's book those who claim that the ecumenical movement went into a deadlock have not studied its results. Most people suffer from a lack of memory when it comes to the history of ecumenical theology during the past 70 years. This book provides medicine for ecumenical amnesia. It deals especially with the Faith and Order Movement and Commission within the World Council of Churches. There flows from Brinkman's book a whole new stream of an ecumenical theological tradition which is scarcely known even to academic theologians. This tradition treats of such matters as Scripture and Tradition, Faith and Sacraments, Church, World and Kingdom of God. This book provides an excellent overview and in-depth evaluation of the major currents in this developing ecumenical tradition. It will certainly promote its reception in the churches and its study in the academy. At the same time, however, it keeps an eye open for the difficulties and tensions of the dialogue between ecumenical and evangelical Christians and between the theological methods of the North and the South. It will be difficult to find any more reliable study guide to the results of the multilateral ecumenical dialogues of the twentieth century. Anton Houtepen, Professor of Ecumenism, University of Utrecht, The Netherlands. This book conceived as a study guide to the Faith and Order Movement does precisely what it sets out to do and does it well. It brings the reader into close contact with the documents and studies published by this influential section of the World Council of Churches. Such an inventory comes at the right time just as the Commission on Faith and Order takes stock after the World Conference of Santiago and under the guidance of a new director. It is no secret that Faith and Order has been invited to reflect upon its future orientation. The well-documented and orderly survey which Prof. Brinkman offers us here will certainly be of help in such a process. Jos Vercruyssen, S.J., Professor of Church History and Ecumenism, Pontifical Gregorian University, Rome.

The Black Family C. Anthony Hunt, 2000 Proclaim Peace Theron F. Schlabach, Richard Thomas Hughes, 1997 Building Materials for Life Millard Fuller, 2002. Building Materials for Life: a collection of 40 inspiring essays will motivate you to gather the resources you need to succeed in life. The Intentional Christian Community Handbook David Janzen, 2012-11-01. This is a book that we've needed for a long long time. This is a book for people who long for community and for people who've found it for young seekers and for old radicals. Like a farmer's almanac or a good cookbook, it's a guide that doesn't tell you what to do but rather gives you the resources you need to find your way together with friends in the place where you are. We couldn't be more grateful to have a book like this. And we couldn't be happier to share it with you. Shane Claiborne and Jonathan Wilson Hartgrove. In the 21st century, a new generation of Spirit-energized people are searching for a new yet ancient way of life together. David Janzen, a friend of the New Monasticism movement with four decades of personal communal experience, has visited scores of communities, both old and new. The Intentional Christian Community Handbook shares his wisdom as well as the experience of intentional Christian communities across North America over the last half century.
