feelings of internalized racism The chapters draw on ethnographic research collected across two years in one Southern California community Through students own meaning making it shows readers how Cambodian American youth are simultaneously invisible and hyper visible in their school and community which shapes access to important identities and relationships This work invites interrogation of the Asian American category itself and seeks to move the fields of Asian American and educational studies forward by critically examining not only how the model minority stereotype is constructed and imposed but also how it can be adopted and affirmed by Asian American youth themselves Practitioners who work with marginalized and underrepresented students and students of courses such as Asian American studies anthropology cultural studies and education and psychology will find this to be a helpful and enlightening text The accessible and clear writing makes this book of interest to a general audience as well Indochinese Students in U.S. Schools ,1981 A guide to acquaint administrators with the culture of the refugees who are entering schools to pinpoint some of the educational problems they and the administrator will face and to help identify solutions or possibilities within educational management terms
