

I presume there are historical reasons behind the ratings. I won't try to justify the high ones or excuse the low ones. The ratings are relevant to us Filipinos, since we happen to live in a democracy, and a democracy functions better when its officials are popular than when they are not.

Inquirer Report Card On The Schools:

The University and Urban Revival Judith Rodin, 2015-12-04 In the last quarter of the twentieth century urban colleges and universities found themselves enveloped by the poverty crime and physical decline that afflicted American cities Some institutions turned inward trying to insulate themselves rather than address the problems in their own backyards Others attempted to develop better community relations though changes were hard to sustain Spurred by an unprecedented crime wave in 1996 University of Pennsylvania President Judith Rodin knew that the time for urgent action had arrived and she set a new course of proactive community engagement for her university Her dedication to the revitalization of West Philadelphia was guided by her role not only as president but also as a woman and a mother with a deep affection for her hometown The goal was to build capacity back into a severely distressed inner city neighborhood educational capacity retail capacity quality of life capacity and especially economic capacity guided by the belief that town and gown could unite as one richly diverse community Cities rely on their academic institutions as stable places of employment cultural centers civic partners and concentrated populations of consumers for local business and services And a competitive university demands a vibrant neighborhood to meet the needs of its faculty staff and students In keeping with their mission urban universities are uniquely positioned to lead their communities in revitalization efforts yet this effort requires resolute persistence During Rodin's administration 1994-2004 the Chronicle of Higher Education referred to Penn's progress as a national model of constructive town gown interaction and partnership This book narrates the challenges frustrations and successes of Penn's campaign and its prospects for long term change Restructuring the Philadelphia Region Carolyn Adams, David Bartelt, David Elesh, Ira Goldstein, 2008-08-06 Looking for regional solutions to local limitations of opportunity in education jobs and housing The Parent-School Board Feuds Gerard Giordano, 2024-10-02 During the COVID 19 pandemic parents were able to observe their children in online classes They were surprised by classroom discussions and assignments related to gender race ethnicity and religion along with the policies that were guiding curricula tests technology athletics discipline safety transportation funding and numerous other aspects of schools Parents began giving their advice to their school boards but when they were ignored they disrupted meetings wrote editorials created blogs staged rallies and lobbied state officials They were hoping to attract media attention and acquire political power and were stunned by their success The Parent School Board Feuds Essential Steps by Parents to Improve Schools recounts parent school board feuding about controversial classroom topics such as gender and race their disagreements about school policies including those affecting tests technology athletics and discipline and the impact that parents had during the pandemic and continue to have today Charter School Report Card Shawgi Tell, 2016-04-01 What is a charter school Where do they come from Who promotes them and why What are they supposed to do Are they the silver bullet to the ills plaguing the American public education system This book provides a comprehensive and accessible overview and analysis of charter schools and their many dimensions It shows that charter schools as a whole lower the quality of education through the privatization and marketization of education The final chapter provides readers with a way toward rethinking and remaking education in a way that is consistent with modern requirements Society and its members need a fully funded high quality public education system open to all and controlled by a public authority

Marketing Schools, Marketing Cities Maia Bloomfield Cucchiara, 2013-05-25 Discuss real estate with any young family and the subject of schools is certain to come up in fact it will likely be a crucial factor in determining where that family lives Not merely institutions of learning schools have increasingly become a sign of a neighborhood's vitality and city planners have ever more explicitly promoted good schools as a means of attracting more affluent families to urban areas a dynamic process that Maia Bloomfield Cucchiara critically examines in Marketing Schools Marketing Cities Focusing on Philadelphia's Center City Schools Initiative she shows how education policy makes overt attempts to prevent or at least slow middle class flight to the suburbs Navigating complex ethical terrain she balances the successes of such policies in strengthening urban schools and communities against the inherent social injustices they propagate the further marginalization and disempowerment of lowerclass families By asking what happens when affluent parents become valued customers Marketing Schools Marketing Cities uncovers a problematic relationship between public institutions and private markets where the former are used to leverage the latter to effect urban transformations

Regret the Error Craig Silverman, 2010-09-10 We regret the error it's a phrase that appears in newspapers almost daily the standard notice that something went terribly wrong in the reporting editing or printing of an article From Craig Silverman the proprietor of www.RegretTheError.com one of the Internet's most popular media related websites comes a collection of funny shocking and sometimes disturbing journalistic slip ups and corrections On display are all types of media inaccuracy from fuzzy math to obiticide printing the obituary of a person very much alive and well to complete and utter ethical lapses While some of the errors can be laugh out loud funny the book contains a sobering journey through the history of media mistakes including the outrageous hoaxes that dominated newspapers during the circulation wars of the 19th century and a serious muckraking investigation of contemporary journalism's lack of accountability to the public It shines a spotlight on the media's carelessness and the sometimes tragic and calamitous consequences of weak or non-existent fact checking
