Darby Lewes

Inspire The Muse 1:

Auto-poetica Darby Lewes, 2006-01-01 The nineteenth century Kunstlerroman self consciously addresses the devices of fiction and in doing so tends toward irony and self reflection and prefigures postmodernism A work of art written about an artist creating a work of art is in a sense a novel in which the author is a character The essays in this collection examine the work of major nineteenth century authors that attempted to merge fiction and reality into a unified whole These novels paved the way for postmodernists who would use the artist novel to self consciously focus on the genre's particular conventions to parody those conventions in order to accentuate the work's fictionality and to expose the oppositions between fiction and reality This collection thus reveals not only material concerns but the underlying anxieties drives and joys which are so profoundly linked to the creative process

Macdonald, Anne McWhir, 2010-03-04 The selections from 132 authors in this anthology represent gender social class and racial and national origin as inclusively as possible providing both greater context for canonical works and a sense of the era's richness and diversity In terms of genre poetry non fiction prose philosophy educational writing and prose fiction are included Geographically America Canada Australia India and Africa are represented along with Britain emphasizing Romantic literature as a world literature Biographical headnotes explanatory footnotes and an extensive bibliography clarify and illuminate the texts for readers

A New English Dictionary on Historical Principles: part 1. H (1901) James Augustus Henry Murray, 1901 The Broadview Anthology of Literature of the Revolutionary Period 1770-1832, 2010 The Journal of English and Germanic Philology, 1951 Painting in the Shadow Fabio Troncarelli, 2023-10-09 The almost invisible images of a hitherto unknown painter called Eusebius who worked in San Vitale Ravenna and in Vivarium are a gallery of portraits of his famous contemporaries such as Theodoric Vitiges Amalasunta and a visual commentary of Justinian's tyrannical behaviour Living between two ages without belonging to either this solitary man represents the fullest embodiment of a type of cultural hybridisation that is well attested throughout history Eusebius is a spiritual brother of those hybrid artists who have left extraordinary examples of grotesques populated by fantastic beings After having embodied for so long the unbiased tolerance which had been the core of his own life and those of his companions in Ravenna that mixture of confidentiality intelligence pointed irony fantasy and why not touch of madness which had helped him to navigate through the troubled waters of his age always leaving at the margins the demons who haunted him

Chambers's Cyclopædia of English Literature Robert Chambers, 1893 Poetry and the Feminine from Behn to Cowper Jennifer Keith, 2005 Poetry and the Feminine from Behn to Cowper revisits the foundations of poetic representation and value for women and men poets of the Restoration and eighteenth century including Aphra Behn John Dryden Anne Killigrew Anne Finch and Alexander Pope The author argues that fundamental to poetic innovation in this era are poets' revisions of feminine figures such as the muse and nature

Feminine Nature serves these poets as an infinitely expandable category of form that allows them to redefine poetry and poetic subjectivity These poetic innovations include exploring the very grounds of mimesis dismantling the hierarchy of poetic kinds and using sensibility to yoke aesthetic and ethical values Using an inclusive framework the author presents a history of poetic change through women s and men s complex dialogues with poetic contexts and conventions Jennifer Keith is Associate Professor at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro
