Complexity in Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Technology Research
 Elisabeth S.C. Berger, Andreas Kuckertz, 2016-02-25. This volume discusses the challenge of dealing with complexity in entrepreneurship, innovation and technology research. Businesses as well as entire economies are increasingly being confronted by widespread complex systems. Fields such as entrepreneurship and innovation cannot ignore this reality, especially with their inherent links to diverse research fields and interdisciplinary methods. However, most methods that allow more detailed analyses of complex problems are either neglected in mainstream research or are at best still emerging. Against this backdrop, this book provides a forum for the discussion of emergent and neglected methods in the context of complexity in entrepreneurship, innovation and technology research and also acts as an inspiration for academics across related disciplines to engage more in complexity research.

Applied Bayesian Statistics Scott M. Lynch, 2022-10-31 Bayesian statistical analyses have become increasingly common over the last two decades The rapid increase in computing power that facilitated their implementation coincided with major changes in the research interests of and data availability for social scientists Specifically the last two decades have seen an increase in the availability of panel data sets other hierarchically structured data sets including spatially organized data along with interests in life course processes and the influence of context on individual behavior and outcomes The Bayesian approach to statistics is well suited for these types of data and research questions Applied Bayesian Statistics is an introduction to these methods that is geared toward social scientists Author Scott M Lynch makes the material accessible by emphasizing application more than theory explaining the math in a step by step fashion and demonstrating the Bayesian approach in analyses of U S political trends drawing on data from the General Social Survey How Politicians Polarize

Mia Costa,2025-03-26 A fresh examination of political representation in an era of negative partisanship What does representation look like when politicians focus on othering the opposing party rather than the policy interests of their constituents How do voters react to negative partisan rhetoric And is policy responsiveness still the cornerstone of American representative democracy In How Politicians Polarize Mia Costa draws on survey experiments analysis of congressional newsletters and tweets and data on fundraising and media coverage to examine how and why politicians rely so often on negative partisan attacks Costa shows that most Americans do not like negative rhetoric and politicians know this Nonetheless these kinds of attacks can reap powerful rewards from national media donors and party elites Costa s findings challenge the popular notion that Americans are motivated more by their partisan identities than by policy representation Her research illuminates how the political ecosystem rewards negative representation and how this affects the quality of American democracy Gathering Social Network Data jimi adams,2019-06-03 test Experimental Methods in Survey

Understanding Correlation Matrices Alexandria Hadd, Joseph Lee Rodgers, 2020-11-29 Correlation matrices along with their unstandardized counterparts covariance matrices underlie the majority the statistical methods that researchers use today A correlation matrix is more than a matrix filled with correlation coefficients The value of one correlation in the matrix puts constraints on the values of the others and the multivariate implications of this statement is a major theme of the volume Alexandria Hadd and Joseph Lee Rodgers cover many features of correlations matrices including statistical hypothesis tests their role in factor analysis and structural equation modeling and graphical approaches They illustrate the discussion with a wide range of lively examples including correlations between intelligence measured at different ages through adolescence correlations between country characteristics such as public health expenditures health life expectancy and adult mortality correlations between well being and state level vital statistics correlations between the racial composition of cities and professional sports teams and correlations between childbearing intentions and childbearing outcomes over the reproductive life course This volume may be used effectively across a number of disciplines in both undergraduate and graduate statistics classrooms and also in the research laboratory
