

Recount Text Features Key

Here are the features of a recount text. Using coloured pens, pencils or highlighters, mark a feature with examples from your text. For example, if you colour the 'Time conjunctions' box in red, then use the same colour (red) to underline any examples of time conjunctions in your writing.

Text title: _____

	Introduction paragraph briefly covers who, what, where and when about the event.		Concluding paragraph links back to the introduction.
	First or third person, depending on whether the writer was present.		Explanation of why the events were significant and to whom.
	Past tense is used (except if links to present/future are made in the conclusion).		Extra details about how and why the event happened in main paragraphs.
	Named, specific people, places and things are described.		Personal recount uses stronger language, including description of emotions.
	Time conjunctions, usually in chronological order.		Impersonal recount is more factual and direct.
	Quotations from witnesses/people who were there.

Teaching Informational Text in K-3 Classrooms Mariam Jean Dreher, Sharon Bengé Kletzien, 2015-09-19 Specifically designed for K-3 teachers this accessible guide describes ways to use informational text creatively and effectively in both reading and writing instruction. The book presents lessons, read-alouds and activities that motivate students to engage with a wide variety of exemplary texts. Links to the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) are explained throughout. Key topics include how to build academic vocabulary, balance fiction and nonfiction and address the needs of English language learners. Examples from diverse classrooms and end-of-chapter discussion questions and engagement activities enhance the book's utility as a professional development resource. Reproducible handouts and other tools can be downloaded and printed in a convenient 8 1/2 x 11 size. Learning to Write and Loving It! Preschool-Kindergarten Miriam P. Trehearne, 2011-08-17 Learning to Write and Loving It! equips teachers of young children with practical strategies, assessment tools and motivating writing activities that are based on current research and proven practice and are easily applicable to all kinds of learning environments. Included are many authentic writing samples and photos to illustrate effective developmentally appropriate instructional methods, mini lessons and activities. Sought-after author and speaker Miriam P. Trehearne demonstrates how to scaffold play and literacy learning and how to easily link assessment to instruction. Key features differentiate using effective instructional approaches for teaching writing and supporting inquiry and play, assess and document student writing seamlessly throughout the day, motivate and engage children in writing fiction, narrative, nonfiction, poetry and song, enjoy learning with a powerful collection of vignettes from real classrooms and use teacher-friendly guidelines for effectively integrating technology and selecting software for young children. A companion CD offers modifiable reproducibles, observation checklists, assessments and projects for parents to do with their young children. Learn how to successfully scaffold writing and in the process foster cross-curricular skills in science, social studies and math. Research shows that writing provides a strong foundation for literacy development. Further writing helps children express themselves, clarify their thinking, communicate ideas and integrate new information into their knowledge base.
