Imperialism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2003-08-29 Imperialism in Southeast Asia examines its subject against a backdrop of those countries that could at a given time be called imperialist Britain France Spain the Netherlands and the US Examining the imperialist phenomenon from this wide ranging perspective reveals imperialism as driven by rivalry it also facilitates comparison imperialism has elements in common yet differs according to the territory in which it operates This is one of the few studies of imperialism to concentrate on Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling's definition of imperialism focuses on the establishment of political control from 1870 to 1914 Moving forward in time the author analyses attempts to re establish control after the overthrow of imperial regimes in the Second World War Most recently Southeast Asia has become a region of independent states and Tarling discusses imperial ventures as forms of state building At the same time his discussion reflects another contemporary concern globalisation and the relationship of the state to that process Nicolas Tarling is an eminent writer in Asian history His latest book will be of great interest to all those studying or involved in Asian studies history and politics

South East Asia, Colonial History: High imperialism (1890s-1930s) Paul H. Kratoska, 2001 The six volumes that make up this unique set provide an extensive overview of colonialism in South East Asia In the majority of cases authors chosen were specialists writing about their individual areas of expertise and had first hand experience in the region Outline of contents I Imperialism before 1800 Edited by Peter Borschberg II Empire Building in the Nineteenth Century III High Imperialism IV Imperial Decline Nationalism and the Japanese Challenge V Peaceful Transitions to Independence VI Independence through Violent Struggle

Southeast Asia Cruising Guide Volume II Elaine Morgan, 2019-01-01 The only guide to Southeast Asia that covers the entire length and breadth of a region frequently visited by round the world sailors many of whom leave Australia to head west This 2008 edition concentrates on the most frequented routes and includes the most popular stops There are hundreds of possible anchorages the most popular of which are usefully summarised in tables Introductory sections cover planning and the last part of the book deals with more general topics including advice on provisioning and the problems that are often faced by cruisers Stephen Morgan and Elaine Davies first arrived in the region over 30 years ago They work in Hong Kong Stephen Davies as Director of the Hong Kong Maritime Museum and Elaine Morgan as a writer and editor While this pilot is aimed at yachtsmen and indeed was surveyed from the Davies Morgan yacht it is just as relevant to the commercial or military mariner The part of the world described in this work is one of the most interesting on our planet Culturally scenically climatically and commercially it has everything This excellent book now in its second edition describes it all very enticingly Set to the usual high standard of the Imray pilots that precede it this one is spiced up by the wit and anecdotes the authors are so good at

Secularism, Decolonisation, and the Cold War in South and Southeast Asia Clemens Six, 2017-07-20 The intensifying conflicts between religious communities in contemporary South and Southeast Asia signify the importance of gaining a clearer understanding of how societies have historically organised and mastered their religious diversity Based on extensive archival research in Asia Europe and the United States this book suggests a new approach to interpreting and explaining secularism not as a Western concept but as a distinct form of practice in 20th century global history In six case studies on the contemporary history of India Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore it analyses secularism as a project to create a high degree of distance between the state and religion during the era of decolonisation and the emerging Cold War between 1945 and 1970 To demonstrate the interplay between local and transnational dynamics the case studies look at patterns of urban planning the struggle against religious nationalism conflicts around religious education and anti communism as a dispute over secularism and social reform The book emphasises in particular the role of non state actors as key supporters of secular statehood a role that has thus far not received sufficient attention A novel approach to studying secularism in Asia the book discusses the different ways that global transformations such as decolonisation and the Cold War interacted with local relations to reshape and relocate religion in society It will be of interest to scholars of Religious Studies International Relations and Politics Studies of Empire Cold War Studies Subaltern Studies Modern Asian History and South and Southeast Asian Studies Nationalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2004-08-02 Nationalism in Southeast Asia seeks a definition of nationalism through examining its role in the history of southeast Asia a region rarely included in general books on the topic By developing such a definition and testing it out Tarling hopes at the same time to make a contribution to southeast Asian historiography and to limit its ghettoization Tarling considers the role of nationalism in the nation building of the post colonial phase and its relationship both with the democratic aspirations associated with the winning of independence and with the authoritarianism of the closing decades of the 20th century Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1983 Study Guide for World History II Stephanie E. Merritt, United States Armed Forces Institute, 1956 Malaysia and the Developing World Jan Stark, 2013-01-25 As Malaysia's economy grows and flourishes strong new links are being forged with other developing countries in the region and beyond This book traces the ways in which age old organizational political religious and trade networks between Nusantara the Malay World and Central Asia East Africa and the Middle East have changed in recent years The book argues that these old links are being revived by new forms of globalization modernization and knowledge transfer that are developing and implementing non western models of governance often in direct reference to Islam The book goes on to explain how as Malaysia develops new links with Indian Ocean countries many of them Muslim countries a new style trading network is being formed a network with Islamic characteristics which echoes Indian Ocean Islamic trading networks of earlier times Interspersed with interesting methodological insights into the latest network transnational and spatial theories the book provides detailed case studies of Malaysia's and Southeast Asia's trade and numerous other links with Indonesia Egypt Zanzibar Comoros and Central Asia and concludes by assessing how Malaysia's and ASEAN's new style network is likely to develop and influence wider global networks Written with a depth of knowledge reflective of the author's many years of research throughout Asia this book gives a real insight into how Malaysia's mentalities traditions and ways of thinking are being applied to its interactions with its immediate neighbours and the wider world Imperialism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2001 Imperialism in Southeast Asia examines its subject against a backdrop of those countries that could at a given time be called imperialist Britain France Spain the Netherlands and the US Examining the imperialist phenomenon from this wide ranging perspective reveals imperialism as driven by rivalry it also facilitates comparison imperialism has elements in common yet differs according to the territory in which it operates This is one of the few studies of imperialism to concentrate on Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling's definition of imperialism focuses on the establishment of political control from 1870 to 1914 Moving forward in time the author analyses attempts to re establish control after the overthrow of imperial regimes in the Second World War Most recently Southeast Asia has become a region of independent states and Tarling discusses imperial ventures as forms of state building At the same time his discussion reflects another contemporary concern globalisation and the relationship of the state to that process Nicolas Tarling is an eminent writer in Asian history His latest book will be of great interest to all those studying or involved in Asian studies history and politics

China Studies In South And Southeast Asia: Between Pro-china And Objectivism Chih-yu Shih, Prapin

Manomaivibool, Reena Marwah, 2018-08-13 The rise of China has reconstituted the regional identity in Asia as well as the lens through which understanding of China and self understanding are no longer separate processes intellectually China scholarship in South and Southeast Asia necessarily highlights meanings of encountering China that Western social sciences fail to reflect because academics in many places being migrants navigate and combine more than one civilization forces With China in itself undergoing transformation it is unlikely that one can simply speak of China without multiple qualifications of what one actually refers to The book gathers authors who come from different scholarly traditions to reflect upon how the presentation of China in academic writings as well as think tank analyses can engender different identity possibilities The book therefore complicates the category China to enable mutual empathy between everything that in one way or another relies on Chineseness as object or subject in accordance with the identity strategies of the China experts
