Corpora in the Foreign Language

Classroom ,2015-07-14 The papers published in this volume were originally presented at the Sixth International Conference on Teaching and Language Corpora 4 7 July 2004 Granada Spain and reflect the latest developments that have taken place in the field of the teaching applications of text corpora with a special emphasis on their use in the foreign language classroom The book is divided into three main sections The first section sets the scene for what this collection of essays aims to be It deals with the issue of what corpus linguistics can do not only for the understanding of the nature of language itself but also for so fundamental and miraculous a matter such as language learning and language acquisition The second section tackles the issues of corpus design and corpus exploitation and provides the reader with a great variety of evidence in favour of corpora exploitation for the building of a successful teaching environment The final section deals with practical applications of corpora in the foreign language classroom Although each of the papers here reports particular experiences in very different teaching and learning contexts as a whole they show that corpora can be used on the spot in a language teaching context by teachers and learners without extensive training in computational tools and studies of linguistics features can be tailored to specific pedagogic context and learning requirements The book represents a solid contribution to linguistic studies and language teaching and it is a good example of the diversity of the scientific lines in which corpus linguistics is involved at the present moment Lived Experience, Lifelong Learning, Community Activism and Social Change Sharon

Clancy,Iain Jones,2024-06-03 This book identifies and celebrates the learning adult educators can gain from the numerous sites of community activism learning and social change that are currently taking place across the globe While the relentless push of neoliberalism has struck at the heart of adult education provision in many countries including that provided by universities institutions of further education international development agencies NGOs vocational training centres and the local government sector what can adult educators learn and what is being learnt when we turn to sites of community activism as a mechanism for broader social change Drawing on empirical research as well as stories and blogs about social change and transformation from those participating in community activist struggles this book features diverse contributions from adult education practitioners theorists and activist researchers who share community activist practices from around the world and provide insight into the ways these have contributed to social change and political transformation in different spaces and communities Each chapter and blog in this collection relate to different dimensions of community democracy and dialogue and how this space has become one in which delimiting factors must constantly be fought In these contributions questions of critical pedagogy and voice and contested notions of power place and voice are lived felt and troubled in different national and international contexts This book was originally published as a special issue of Studies in the Education of Adults Ex Libris ,1923 The Publishers Weekly ,1917 Higher Education Accessibility Behind and Beyond

Prison Walls McMay, Dani V.,Kimble, Rebekah D.,2020-04-17 Numerous studies indicate that completing a college degree reduces an individual s likelihood of recidivating However there is little research available to inform best practices for running college programs inside jails or prisons or supporting returning citizens who want to complete a college degree

Higher Education Accessibility Behind and Beyond Prison Walls examines program development and pedagogical techniques in the area of higher education for students who are currently incarcerated or completing a degree post incarceration Drawing on the experiences of program administrators and professors from across the country it offers best practices for 1 developing running and teaching in college programs offered inside jails and prisons and 2 providing adequate support to returning citizens who wish to complete a college degree This book is intended to be a resource for college administrators staff and professors running or teaching in programs inside jails or prisons or supporting returning citizens on traditional college campuses

Co-producing Research Sarah Banks, Angie Hart, Kate Pahl, Paul Ward, 2018-12-19 Offering a critical examination of the nature of co produced research this important new book draws on materials and case studies from the ESRC funded project Imagine connecting communities through research Outlining a community development approach to co production which privileges community agency the editors link with wider debates about the role of universities within communities With policy makers in mind contributors discuss in clear and accessible language what co production between community groups and academics can achieve The book will be valuable for practitioners within community contexts and researchers interested in working with communities activists and artists
