Africa since Decolonization Martin Welz, 2021-01-21

Home to more than 1.2 billion people living in 54 recognized states speaking around 3,000 languages Africa is a diverse and complex continent made up of states which differ in regard to their colonial history political system socio economic development economic policies and their experience with crises and conflicts This introduction and overview of African history and politics since decolonization emphasises throughout the diversity of the continent Organised thematically to include chapters on decolonization and its legacies external influences economics political systems inter African relations crises conflicts and conflict management and Africa's external relations Martin Welz strikes a fine balance between the use of contextual information analysis case studies and examples with theoretical debates in development politics and global policy Accessible to students at all levels it counters histories which offer reductive explanations of complex issues and offers new insights into the role African actors have played in influencing international affairs beyond the continent

Africa's Big Men Kenneth Kalu, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, Toyin Falola, 2018-03-20 This book spotlights analyzes and explains varying forms and patterns of state society relations on the African continent taking as point of departure the complexities created by the emergence proliferation and complicated interactions of so called big men across Africa's fifty four states The contributors interrogate the evolution of Africa's big men the role of the big men in Africa's political and economic development and the relationship between the state the big men and the citizens Throughout the chapters the contributors engage with a number of questions from different disciplinary and methodological orientations How did these states evolve to exhibit various deformities in their composition functioning and in their relations with the societies that they govern What roles did Atlantic and other slavery and European colonialism play in creating states that are unable to display the right and good relationships with citizens in civil society Why did these forms of predatory state society relations continue to thrive in Africa after the end of Atlantic slave trade and subsequent colonialism Why did the emerging African leaders at independence fail to effectively dismantle the structures of exploitation and expropriation that were the defining features of slavery and colonialism Who are Africa's big men and what are their trajectories This book is essential reading for all students and scholars of African politics public policy and administration political economy and democratisation

Baglione, 2024-02-22 Understanding Comparative Politics links comparative politics to identity helping students make personal connections and actively learn and explore through maps data theory and reflection questions Issues of race gender ethnicity and religion are put into context encouraging critical thinking about world regions and individual countries through the lens of current events A Theory of African

Constitutionalism Berihun Adugna Gebeye, 2021-07-08 A Theory of African Constitutionalism asks and seeks to answer why we need a new theoretical framework for African constitutionalism and how this could offer us better theoretical and practical tools with which to understand improve and assess African constitutionalism on its own terms By locating constitutional studies in Africa within the experiences interactions and contestations of power and governance beginning in precolonial times the book presents the development and transformation of African constitutional systems across time and place along with the attendant constitutional designs and practices ranging from the nature and operation of the African state to its vertical and horizontal government structures to its constitutional rights regime This title offers both a theoretically and comparatively rich historically and contextually informed and temporally and spatially extensive account of the nature travails and incremental successes of African constitutionalism with detailed case studies from Nigeria Ethiopia and South Africa A Theory of African Constitutionalism provides scholars policymakers governments and constitution builders in Africa and beyond with new insights for reimagining the purpose substance and scope of constitutions and constitutionalism Global Yorùbá Toyin Falola, 2024-11-19 In Global Yorùbá renowned scholar Toyin Falola covers the history people traditions environment religion spirituality cosmology culture and philosophy of one of Africa's largest cultural groups the Yorùbá all while considering the people's relationship with their immediate and distant neighbors Falola examines how the Yorùbá people have adapted to their environment and tapped it to reinvent their civilization shape their culture and traditions and inform their socioeconomic relations with their neighbors These interactions have guided the Yorùbá philosophy that developed over time expressing their conviction regarding society's evolution and the place that humans occupy within it This web of knowledge can present a more coherent account than any other text yet produced regarding Yorùbá civilization This volume demonstrates how global dynamics have been adopted in the creation of a Yorùbá community across different times and spaces An Analysis of Mahmood Mamdani's Citizen and Subject Meike de Goede, 2017-07-05 Mahmood

Mamdani's 1996 Citizen and Subject is a powerful work of analysis that lays bare the sources of the problems that plagued and often still plague African governments Analysis is one of the broadest and most fundamental critical thinking skills and involves understanding the structure and features of arguments Mamdani's strong analytical skills form the basis of an original investigation of the problems faced by the independent African governments in the wake of the collapse of the colonial regimes imposed by European powers such as Great Britain and France. It had long been clear that these newly independent governments faced many problems: corruption, the imposition of anti-democratic rule, and many basic failures of day-to-day governance. They also tended to replicate many of the racially and ethnically prejudiced structures that were part of colonial rule. Mamdani analyses the many arguments about the sources of these problems, drawing out their hidden implications and assumptions in order to clear the way for his own creative new vision of the way to overcome the obstacles to democratization in Africa. A dense and brilliant analysis of the true nature of colonialism's legacy in Africa, Mamdani's book remains influential to this day.

The End of Empires and a World Remade Martin Thomas, 2024-03-19. A capacious history of decolonization from the decline of empires to the era of globalization. Empires until recently were everywhere. They shaped borders, stirred conflicts, and set the terms of international politics. With the collapse of empire came a fundamental reorganization of our world. Decolonization unfolded across territories as well as within them. Its struggles became internationalized and transnational as much as global campaigns of moral disarmament against colonial injustice as local contests of arms. In this expansive history, Martin Thomas tells the story of decolonization and its intrinsic link to globalization. He traces the connections between these two transformative processes: the end of formal empire and the acceleration of global integration, market reorganization, cultural exchange, and migration. The End of Empires and a World Remade shows how profoundly decolonization shaped the process of globalization in the wake of empire collapse. In the second half of the twentieth century, decolonization catalyzed new international coalitions, it triggered partitions and wars, and it reshaped North-South dynamics. Globalization promised the decolonized greater access to essential resources, to wider networks of influence, and to worldwide audiences, but its neoliberal variant has reinforced economic inequalities and imperial forms of political and cultural influences. In surveying these two codependent histories across the world, from Latin America to Asia, Thomas explains why the deck was so heavily stacked against newly independent nations. Decolonization stands alongside the great world wars as the most transformative event of twentieth-century history. In The End of Empires and a World Remade, Thomas offers a masterful analysis of the greatest process of state-making and empire-unmaking in modern history.

Second-Generation Liberation Wars Yaniv Voller, 2022-02-24. The formation of post-colonial states in Africa and the Middle East gave birth to prolonged separatist wars. Exploring the evolution of these separatist wars, Yaniv Voller examines the strategies that both governments and insurgents employed, how these strategies were shaped by the previous struggle against European colonialism, and the practices and roles that emerged in the subsequent period which moulded the identities, aims, and strategies of post-colonial governments and separatist rebels. Based on a wealth of primary sources, Voller focuses on two post-colonial separatist wars: in Iraqi Kurdistan between Kurdish separatists and the government in Baghdad, and in Southern Sudan between black African insurgents and the government in Khartoum. By providing an account of both conflicts, he offers a new understanding of colonialism, decolonisation, and the international politics of the post-colonial world.

Suspended Lives Bridget Marie Haas, 2023-04-25 Suspended Lives vividly explores the everyday experiences of asylum seekers in the United States. Drawing on long term ethnographic fieldwork among a diverse group of asylum seekers, Bridget M Haas traces the emotional, psychological and social effects of being embedded in the US asylum regime. Appealing to the United States for protection, asylum seekers are cast into a complex and protracted bureaucratic system that increasingly sees them as threatening or suspicious. Haas takes readers into the intimate spaces of asylum seekers' homes and communities as well as into legal and bureaucratic settings that are often inaccessible to the public. Poignantly foregrounding the lived experiences and voices of asylum seekers, Suspended Lives exposes the asylum system as a site of multiple yet often hidden and normalized forms of violence. In doing so, Haas also illuminates how asylum seekers respond to these harms to actively endure the asylum process.

Peace in Political Unsettlement Jan Pospisil, 2018-12-11 International peacebuilding has reached an impasse. Its lofty ambitions have resulted in at best middling success punctuated by moments of outright failure. The discrediting of the term liberal peacebuilding has seen it evolve to respond to the numerous critiques. Notions such as inclusive peace merge the liberal paradigm with critical notions of context and the need to refine practices to take account of the local or complexity. However, how this would translate into clear guidance for the practice of peacebuilding is unclear. Paradoxically, contemporary peacebuilding policy has reached an unprecedented level of vagueness. Peace in political unsettlement provides an alternative response rooted in a new discourse which aims to speak both to the experience of working in peace process settings. It maps a new understanding of peace processes as institutionalising formalised political unsettlement and points out new ways of engaging with it. The book points to the ways in which peace processes institutionalise forms of disagreement, creating ongoing processes to manage it rather than resolve it. It suggests a modest approach of providing hooks to future processes, maximising the use of creative non-solutions and practices of disrelation are discussed as pathways for pragmatic post-war transitions. It is only by understanding the nature and techniques of formalised political unsettlement that new constructive ways of engaging with it can be found.

In Search of Tunga André Chappatte, 2022-11-01 This volume on Muslim life focuses on young male migrants of rural origin who move to build better lives in Bougouni, a provincial town in southwest Mali. Describing themselves as simply Muslims and adventurers, these migrants aim to be both prosperous and good Muslims. Drawing upon seventeen months of fieldwork, author André Chappatte explores their sense of prosperity and piety as they embark on tunga adventure, a customary search for money and more in a tradition that dates back to the colonial period. In the context of the current global war on terrorism, most studies of Muslim life have focused on the politics of piety of reformist movements, their leaders and members. By contrast, In Search of Tunga takes a perspective from below. It opens piety up to simply Muslims, although the religious elites have always claimed authority and legitimacy over piety. Is piety an exclusive field of experiences for those who claim to strive for it? What does piety involve for the majority of Muslims, the non-elite and unaffiliated Muslims? This volume democratizes piety by documenting its practice as going beyond sharply defined religious affiliations and Islamic scholarship and by showing it is both alive and normative existential and prescriptive As opposed to studies that build on the classic historical connections between the Maghreb and the Sahel the southbound migration from the Sahel documented in this book stresses the overlooked historical connections between the southern shores of the Sahara and the lands south of those shores It demonstrates how the Malian savanna this former buffer zone between ancient Mande kingdoms and thereafter remote areas of French Sudan is increasingly becoming central in today s Sahel contexts of desiccation and insecurity Decolonizing African Politics Michael Amoah,2025-06-07 This book serves as a unique contribution to the curriculum decolonizing agenda currently trending in universities It approaches Politics and International Relations from the postcolonial and decolonial perspectives with empirical rebuttals to existing imperial and neocolonial false narratives It examines key concepts and topics which regularly feature when teaching or discussing Africa at universities such as nationhood and nationalisms neo patrimonialism arbitrary borders and tribes fran afrique superpower relations relationships with China South South cooperation and collaborations foreign interventions global justice global governance and reform of the UN Security Council This book explores the etymologies of these concepts or topics and their terminological application to Africa while bringing fresh perspectives to the debate It appeals to scholars and students of African politics and international relations and functions as a graduate and advanced under graduate pedagogical tool African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 Nicolas Van de Walle,2001-09-24 This 2001 book explains why African countries have remained mired in a disastrous economic crisis since the late 1970s It shows that dynamics internal to African state structures largely explain this failure to overcome economic difficulties rather than external pressures on these same structures as is often argued Far from being prevented from undertaking reforms by societal interest and pressure groups clientelism within the state elite ideological factors and low state capacity have resulted in some limited reform but much prevarication and manipulation of the reform process by governments which do not really believe that reform will be effective which often oppose reforms because they would undercut the patronage and rent seeking practices which undergird political authority and which lack the administrative and technical capacity to implement much reform Over time state decay has increased Africa in Global International Relations Paul-Henri Bischoff,Kwesi Aning,Amitav Acharya,2015-10-05 Recent scholarship in International Relations IR has started to study the meaning and implications of a non Western world With this comes the need for a new paradigm of IR theory that is more global open inclusive and able to capture the voices and experiences of both Western and non Western worlds This book investigates why Africa has been marginalised in IR discipline and theory and how this issue can be addressed in the context of the emerging Global IR paradigm To have relevance for Africa a new IR theory needs to be more inclusive intellectually negotiated and holistically steeped in the African context In this innovative volume each author takes a critical look at existing IR paradigms and offers a unique perspective based on the African experience Following on from Amitav Acharya and Barry Buzan's work Non Western International Relations Theory it develops and advances non Western IR theory and the idea of Global IR This volume will be of key interest to scholars and students of African politics international relations IR theory and comparative politics Inequality and Political Cleavage in Africa Catherine Boone, 2024-04-25 Extensive data maps and case histories show how competition between rich and poor regions drives African politics not ethnic diversity Routledge Handbook of African Security James Hentz, 2013-08-22 This new Handbook examines the issues challenges and debates surrounding the problem of security in Africa Africa is home to most of the world's current conflicts and security is a key issue However African security can only be understood by employing different levels of analysis the individual human security the state national state security and the region regional international security Each of these levels provides analytical tools for understanding what could be called the African security predicament and these debates are animated by the new security issues immigration small arms transfers gangs and domestic crime HIV AIDS transnational crime poverty and environmental degradation African security therefore not only presents concrete challenges for international security but provides a real world context for challenging conventional conceptions of security Drawing together contributions from a wide range of key thinkers in the field the Routledge Handbook of African Security engages with these debates and is organized into four parts Part I The African security predicament in the twenty first century Part II Understanding conflict in Africa Part III Regionalism and Africa Part IV External influences This Handbook will be of great interest to students of African politics human security global security war and conflict studies peacebuilding and IR in general African Security John Siko, Jonah Victor, 2020-03-19 The world's fastest growing continent demographically Africa displays nearly all the features of today's global security challenges armed conflict terrorism irregular migration organized crime great power competition public discontent and economic turbulence John Siko and Jonah Victor present their lessons from professional practice and pedagogical approach from the classroom in a concise guidebook that leads students and professionals through the most important issues dynamics challenges and considerations for analysing and planning responses to security developments in Africa This book provides issue by issue primers on the causes and consequences of Africa's security challenges that include how to anticipate security problems across current political and economic events how to analyse African security institutions and military capabilities how to understand historical trends across the African continent and appreciate unique variations among countries how to identify key drivers of future trends how to connect security analysis to policy planning Learning is supported through the following features Thematic chapters which are optimized to help the reader quickly connect to the key concepts and analytic frameworks within the field The most relevant historical case studies enabling students to engage in sophisticated analysis and discussion Connections and contrasts between the situations in North Africa and sub Saharan Africa which are traditionally studied separately Special sections on understanding race and ethnicity and advice on traveling in Africa Chapter end checklists of key questions to enable practical
