Self-glorification Albert Borowitz, 2005 In this timely study of the roots of terrorism author Albert Borowitz deftly assesses the phenomenon of violent crime motivated by a craving for notoriety or self glorification He traces this particular brand of terrorism back to 356 BCE and the destruction of the Temple of Artemis at Ephesus by arsonist Herostratos and then examines similar crimes through history to the present time detailing many examples of what the author calls the Herostratos Syndrome such as the attempted explosion of the Greenwich Observatory in 1894 the Taliban s destruction of the giant Buddhas in Afghanistan the assassination of John Lennon the Unabomber strikes and the attacks on the World Trade Center buildings terrorism cannot be the exclusive focus of a single field of scholarship Borowitz presents this complex subject using sources based in religion philosophy history Greek mythology and world literature including works of Chaucer Cervantes Mark Twain and Jean Paul Sartre Terrorism for Self Glorification written in clear and direct prose is original thorough and thought provoking Scholars specialists and general readers will find their understanding of terrorism greatly enhanced by this book crime and punishment and history at its most readable Street Literature of the Long Nineteenth Century David Atkinson, Steve Roud, 2017-08-21 For centuries street literature was the main cheap reading material of the working classes broadsides chapbooks songsters prints engravings and other forms of print produced specifically to suit their taste and cheap enough for even the poor to buy Starting in the sixteenth century but at its chaotic and flamboyant peak in the nineteenth street literature was on sale everywhere in urban streets and alleyways at country fairs and markets at major sporting events and holiday gatherings and under the gallows at public executions For this very reason it was often despised and denigrated by the educated classes but remained enduringly popular with the ordinary people Anything and everything was grist to the printers mill if it would sell A penny could buy you a celebrity scandal a report of a gruesome murder the last dying speech of a condemned criminal wonder tales riddles and conundrums a moral tale of religious danger and redemption a comic tale of drunken husbands and shrewish wives a temperance tract or an ode to beer a satire on dandies an alphabet or reed a ma daisy reading made easy to teach your children an illustrated chapbook of nursery rhymes or the adventures of Robin Hood and Jack the Giant Killer Street literature long held its own by catering directly for the ordinary people at a price they could afford but by the end of the Victorian era it was in terminal decline and was rapidly being replaced by a host of new printed materials in the shape of cheap newspapers and magazines penny dreadful novels music hall songbooks and so on all aimed squarely at the burgeoning mass market Fascinating today for the unique light it shines on the lives of the ordinary people of the age street literature has long been neglected as a historical resource and this collection of essays is the first general book on the trade for over forty years The Lymphoid Neoplasms 3ed Ian Magrath, 2010-07-30 This comprehensive and authoritative reference covers all aspects of the group of disorders collectively known as the lymphoid neoplasms The reader is taken through a description of its normal cellular origins and the molecular genetic abnormalities that can lead to this group of conditions a section of the book that has been considerably strengt Horseless Age ,1914 Will Cuppy, American Satirist Wes D. Gehring, 2013-10-30 Back in the golden age of humor books late 1920s early 1950s when wits of the pantheon like Robert Benchley James Thurber and S J Perelman were producing their signature works there was another singular satirist who more than held his own with such fast company Will Cuppy 1884 1949 This factual funnyman s metier is dark comedy that flirts with nihilism His agenda is baldly stated in such classic Cuppy book titles as How to Be a Hermit 1929 How to Tell Your Friends from the Apes 1931 and The Decline and Fall of Practically Everybody 1950 This biography doubles as a critical study of a satirist whose shish kebabing of humanity was often done through the veiled anthropomorphic use of animals For a biographer Will Cuppy represents a treasure trove of possibilities He was a great humorist and most of his best work is still in print but until now he has never been the subject of a book length study His mesmerizingly complex and eccentric private life almost trumps the comic accomplishments of his public persona The Woman who Murdered Black Satin Albert Borowitz, 1981 Diary of World Events, Being a Chronological Record of the Second World War
