The Moral Metaphor System Ning Yu, 2022-06-27 This book investigates moral metaphors in English and Chinese applying conceptual metaphor theory to a comparative study of the linguistic manifestation of the moral metaphor system rooted in the domains of bodily and physical experience Ning Yu sheds light on the metaphorical nature of moral cognition and how it is systematically manifested in language and explores the potential commonalities that define moral cognition in general as well as the differences that characterize distinct cultures The work investigates moral cognition at the cultural level as reflected in language based on linguistic evidence from both English and Chinese and to a limited extent multimodal evidence from the corresponding cultures The moral metaphor system is taken to consist of three major subsystems referred to as physical visual and spatial These subsystems are clusters of conceptual metaphors whose source concepts are from domains of embodied experiences in the physical world and which are formulated in contrastive categories with bipolar values for the target concepts of moral and immoral The study is characterized by two keywords system and systematicity The former refers to the fact that metaphors conceptual and linguistic are connected within networks and the latter to the need for those metaphors to be studied in such networks The Ecology of

Childhood Barbara Bennett Woodhouse, 2020-01-21 2021 Outstanding Academic Title Choice Magazine How globalization is undermining sustainable social environments for children This book uses the ecological model of child development together with ethnographic and comparative studies of two small villages in Italy and the United States as its framework for examining the well being of children in the aftermath of the Great Recession Global forces far from being distant and abstract are revealed as wreaking havoc in children's environments even in economically advanced countries Falling birth rates deteriorating labor conditions fraying safety nets rising rates of child poverty and a surge in racism and populism in Europe and the United States are explored in the petri dish of the village Globalism's discontents unrestrained capitalism and technological change rising inequality mass migration and the juggernaut of climate change are rapidly destabilizing and degrading the social and physical environments necessary to our collective survival and well being This crisis demands a radical restructuring of our macrosystemic value systems Woodhouse proposes an ecogenerist theory that asks whether our policies and politics foster environments in which children and families can flourish It proposes as a benchmark the family supportive human rights principles of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child The book closes by highlighting ways in which individuals can engage at the local and regional levels in creating more just and sustainable worlds that are truly fit for children
