Lost , 100 Things We've Lost to the Internet Pamela Paul, 2021-10-26 The acclaimed editor of The New York Times Book Review takes readers on a nostalgic tour of the pre Internet age offering powerful insights into both the profound and the seemingly trivial things we ve lost NAMED ONE OF THE TEN BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE AND THE DALLAS MORNING NEWS A deft blend of nostalgia humor and devastating insights People Remember all those ingrained habits cherished ideas beloved objects and stubborn preferences from the pre Internet age They re gone To some of those things we can say good riddance But many we miss terribly Whatever our emotional response to this departed realm we are faced with the fact that nearly every aspect of modern life now takes place in filtered isolated corners of cyberspace a space that has slowly subsumed our physical habitats replacing or transforming the office our local library a favorite bar the movie theater and the coffee shop where people met one another s gaze from across the room Even as we ve gained the ability to gather without leaving our house many of the fundamentally human experiences that have sustained us have disappeared In one hundred glimpses of that pre Internet world Pamela Paul editor of The New York Times Book Review presents a captivating record enlivened with illustrations of the world before cyberspace from voicemails to blind dates to punctuation to civility There are the small losses postcards the blessings of an adolescence largely spared of documentation the Rolodex and the genuine surprises at high school reunions But there are larger repercussions too weaker memories the inability to entertain oneself and the utter demolition of privacy 100 Things We ve Lost to the Internet is at once an evocative swan song for a disappearing era and perhaps a guide to reclaiming just a little bit more of the world IRL Internet Children's Television Series, 1997-2015 Vincent Terrace,2016-08-04

Created around the world and available only on the web internet television series are independently produced mostly low budget shows that often feature talented but unknown performers Typically financed through crowd funding they are filmed with borrowed equipment and volunteer casts and crews and viewers find them through word of mouth or by chance The fifth in a series focusing on the largely undocumented world of internet TV this book covers 573 children s series created for viewers 3 to 14 The genre includes a broad range of cartoons CGI live action comedies and puppetry Alphabetical entries provide websites dates casts credits episode lists and storylines Contemporary Television Series Michael Hammond,2005-05-04 No detailed description available for The Contemporary Television Series

Transmedia Television M.J. Clarke,2012-12-20 Faced with what many were calling a dying medium US network television producers became much more aggressive in seeking out alternative business and artistic models in the beginning of this century Most significantly many of these producers turned to the emerging field of transmedia ancillary texts in comicbooks novels and new media as a way to bolster and support television products In this book the author examines four such programs 24 Alias Heroes and Lost and investigates how transmedia was incorporated into both the work and the art of network television production Split into two complementary parts the book first paints a picture of how transmedia producers were or were not incorporated into creative decision making centers of these serialized programs The second section explains how the presence of off site transmedia texts begins to alter the very narrative construction of the on air series themselves Including interviews with the transmedia workers this groundbreaking study extends the field of television studies into brand new areas and brings a dying medium into the 21st Century Irwin Allen Television Productions, 1964-1970 Jon Abbott,2015-06-14 Before establishing himself as the master of disaster with the 1970s films The Poseidon

Adventure and The Towering Inferno Irwin Allen created four of television's most exciting and enduring science fiction series Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea Lost in Space The Time Tunnel and Land of the Giants These 1960s series were full of Allen's favorite tricks techniques and characteristic touches and influenced other productions from the original Star Trek forward Every science fiction show owes something to Allen yet none has equaled his series pace excitement or originality This detailed examination and documentation of the premise and origin of the four shows offers an objective evaluation of every episode and demonstrates that when Irwin Allen's television episodes were good they were great and when they were bad they were still terrific fun
