Clinical Assessment of Child and Adolescent Intelligence Randy W. Kamphaus, 2019-06-11 This volume now in its second edition has been completely updated to provide the most comprehensive and accessible handbook of practices and tools for the clinical assessment of child and adolescent intelligence. Designed specifically as a teaching tool, it provides students with an accessible guide to interpretation and applies the same interpretive systems across many tests. It emphasizes the proper interpretation of intelligence tests within the context of a child's life circumstances and includes several devices to enhance the logical processes of assessment, beginning with test selection and concluding with the reporting of results. In addition, Clinical Assessment of Child and Adolescent Intelligence stresses the importance of the interpretive process over the value of specific tests. Fosters a deeper understanding of the intelligence construct. Emphasizes learning by example using valuable case studies and vignettes designed to provide students with concrete models to emulate. This edition covers all facets of intelligence testing, including detailed explanations of test interpretation theory, research, and the full range of testing options for preschoolers through adult clients. New chapters have been introduced on neuropsychological approaches, adolescent and adult intelligence, including coverage of WAIS III and KAIT, and achievement and intelligence screeners have been added. And although designed primarily as a text for beginning graduate students, the book is also useful as a refresher for clinicians who are looking for updated assessment information.

Research Methods in Modern Urban Transportation Systems and Networks Elżbieta Macioszek, Grzegorz Sierpiński, 2021-04-15 This book presents many valuable research methods useful in conducting research in modern urban transportation systems and networks. The knowledge base in practical examples as well as the decision support methods described in this book is of interest to people who face the challenge of searching for solutions to the problems of contemporary transport networks and systems on a daily basis. The book is therefore addressed to local authorities related to the planning and development of strategies for selected areas with regard to transport both in the urban and regional dimensions and to representatives of business and industry as people directly involved in the implementation of urban transportation systems and networks solutions. The methods contained in individual chapters of the book allow to look at a given problem in an advanced way and facilitate the selection of the appropriate strategy, e.g. in relation to the air quality in considering the impact of the atmospheric emission from the urban road traffic, the role of incentive programs in promoting the purchase of electric cars, life cycle costing, decision making methodology and urban intersection design, but also in assessing the impact of the socio-financial conditions on the bike sharing system operation and its implementation in medium-sized cities etc. In turn, due to the new approach to theoretical models including comparison methods of driving errors in a single lane and multi-lane roundabouts, methods of parking measurements, methods of ensuring the technical readiness of transport companies' fleet due to the region's capabilities as well as speed-related surrogate measures of road safety based on floating car data, the book is also of interest to scientists and researchers carrying out research in this area.

Bakshi, Frederick T. L. Leong, A. G. Watts, 2014-02-08 This book is focused on work occupation and career development themes that are fundamental to a wide range of human activities and relevant across all cultures Yet theorizing and model building about this most ubiquitous of human activities from international perspectives have not been vigorous An examination of the literature pertaining to career development counseling and guidance that has developed over the last fifty years reveals theorizing and model building have been largely dominated by Western epistemologies some of the largest workforces in the world are in the developing world Career guidance is rapidly emerging as a strongly felt need in these contexts If more relevant models are to be developed frameworks from other cultures and economies must be recognized as providing constructs that would offer a deeper understanding of career development This does not mean that existing ideas are to be discarded Instead an integrative approach that blends universal principles with particular needs could offer a framework for theorizing research and practice that has wider relevance The central objective of this handbook is to draw the wisdom and experiences of different cultures together to consider both universal and specific principles for career guidance and counseling that are socially and economically relevant to contemporary challenges and issues This book is focused on extending existing concepts to broader contexts as well as introducing new concepts relevant to the discipline of career guidance and counseling JIMD Reports, Volume 26 Eva Morava,Matthias Baumgartner,Marc
