Worldly Acts and Sentient Things Robert A. Chodat, 2018-07-05 Ants ghosts cultures thunderstorms stock markets robots computers this is just a partial list of the sentient things that have filled American literature over the last century. From modernism forward writers have given life and voice to both the human and the nonhuman and in the process addressed the motives behaviors and historical pressures that define lives or things both everyday and extraordinary. In Worldly Acts and Sentient Things Robert Chodat exposes a major shortcoming in recent accounts of twentieth century discourse. What is often seen as the death of agency is better described as the displacement of agency onto new and varied entities. Writers as diverse as Gertrude Stein Saul Bellow Ralph Ellison and Don DeLillo are preoccupied with a cluster of related questions. Which entities are capable of believing something saying something desiring hoping hating or doing? Which things in turn do we treat as worthy of our care respect and worship? Drawing on a philosophical tradition exemplified by Ludwig Wittgenstein and Wilfrid Sellars Chodat shows that the death of the Cartesian ego need not entail the elimination of purposeful action altogether. Agents do not dissolve or die away in modern thought and literature they proliferate some in human forms some not. Chodat distinguishes two ideas of agency in particular. One locates purposes in embodied beings persons the other in disembodied entities presences Worldly Acts and Sentient Things is a an engaging blend of philosophy and literary theory for anyone interested in modern and contemporary literature narrative studies psychology ethics and cognitive science   Forgiving the Boundaries Terry Caesar,1995 Caesar attempts to historicize the sustaining interplay between romanticism and travel writing but also emphasizes that his understanding of American travel writing has more to do with narrative form epistemology and cultural inheritance than particular historical shapings   Catalog of Copyright Entries.
