Instructional Media Selection Guide:

Handbook and Catalog for Instructional Media Selection Brian G. Boucher, Merrill J. Gottlieb, Martin L. Morganlander, 1973     An Instructional Media Selection Guide for Distance Learning. Fourth Edition Jolly T. Holden, Philip J.-L. Westfall, 2007 Increasingly educators and trainers are challenged within their respective organizations to provide for the efficient distribution of instructional content using instructional media The appropriate selection of instructional media to support distance learning is not intuitive and does not occur as a matter of personal preference On the contrary instructional media selection is a systematic sequence of qualitative processes based on sound instructional design principles and is an integral component of the Instructional Systems Design process In that role media selection ensures that a specific distributed instructional medium can support the attainment of the desired learning objectives Although media selection is often mentioned when studying the discipline of instructional technology or Instructional Systems Design ISD it is sometimes overlooked when applying the selection process in a distance learning environment Contains 7 figures and 3 tables
