Kwan,Douglas Richardson,Donggen Wang,Chenghu Zhou,2014-09-18 Space time analysis is a rapidly growing research frontier in geography GIS and GIScience Advances in integrated GPS GIS technologies the availability of large datasets over time and space and increased capacity to manage integrate model and visualize complex data in near real time offer the GIS and geography communities extraordinary opportunities to begin to integrate sophisticated space time analysis and models in the study of complex environmental and social systems from climate change to infectious disease transmission This volume specifically focuses on research frontiers comparative research and research and application interactions in this field in the US and China arguably the two most dynamic loci for this work today The contributions to this book by top researchers in China and the US productively highlight the differences and similarities in approaches and directions for space time analysis in the two countries In light of the recent rapid progress in GIScience research on space time integration in both countries the book s focus on research frontiers in these two countries will attract great interest in both countries and in other parts of the world as well as among related disciplines In addition the book also explores the impact of collaborative research and publications underway in this area between the US and China and will provide an overview of these collaborative efforts and programs This book will not only be of interest to university based GIS researchers and students but also to those interested in this new area of research and applications like researchers and developers in business internet mapping and GIS and

Roche,2023-09-01 This book straddles two worlds and attempts to bring them together that of Lefebvre s Marxism on the one hand and that of real estate development on the other Lefebvre has now become a household name amongst many contemporary Marxists especially those with an interest in urban planning and certain quarters of the architectural profession however his work is far less well known by real estate professionals whether investors developers brokers or indeed policymakers Marxism and Real Estate Taking Lefebvre Seriously has both a large scope and a very bold aim to use an explication and analysis of the work of Henri Lefebvre not only to present a critique of development but also to draw these two worlds together It therefore first aims to present the arguments of this increasingly well known French Marxist philosopher sociologist and pioneer of urban studies second to situate contemporary real estate development in the light of Lefebvre s work and third to analyse the potential application of Lefebvre s work to each of the major components of contemporary real estate to use Lefebvre's work in order to recommend practical action for developers working alongside planners and architects to influence the future of global real estate. As well as its direction at developers themselves, this book should be of interest to economists, real estate researchers and professionals, planners, urban studies scholars and of course to those interested in the application of Lefebvre's work to real estate.

An East Asian Renaissance Indermit Singh Gill, Homi J. Kharas, Deepak Bhattasali, 2007. An East Asian Renaissance by a World Bank team led by Chief Economist for East Asia Pacific Dr Homi Kharas and Economic Adviser Dr Indermit Gill is the first comprehensive analysis of the new forces and challenges at play in the region since the Bank's seminal report of 1993 The East Asian Miracle. The report argues that regional flows of goods, finance and technology are helping even smaller East Asian countries reap the benefits of economies of scale and that this regional integration must be encouraged. But it also points out that these measures have to be supported by actions at the domestic level to ease the stresses and strains that rapid economic growth leaves in its wake. East Asia must now turn to the urgent domestic challenges of inequality, social cohesion, corruption and environmental degradation arising from its economic success.
