The Component browser on the right allows you to browse and insert components from the SketchUp library. The SketchUp window also displays the current view of the model.

In addition to the three main windows, SketchUp also includes several other windows, such as the Component browser that's open in Figure 1-1. You can open and close these as needed by using the Window menu. With the tools in these windows, you'll apply color and shading to your models, select prefabricated components, add shadows and lighting effects, and export your project.
