private individuals or between individuals and the UK Government or a foreign State. Significantly, this text also provides an exposition of the law where a British law enforcement agency or a foreign law enforcement agency is involved in the course of criminal or civil proceedings in an English court. The growth of relevant international instruments which include not only those devoted to the protection of mankind's cultural heritage but also those concerned with money laundering and serious organised crime provide a backdrop to this discussion. The UK's ratification of the UNESCO Convention on Means of Prohibiting and Preventing the Illicit Import, Export and Transfer of Ownership of Cultural Property 1970 in 2002 is considered. The problems posed in attempting to curb trafficking in art and antiquities are explored and the effectiveness of the current law is analysed.
