

Farewell Speech

Respected Principal, loving teachers, and my friends.

Asalam Alikum and Good Afternoon.

Words don't come easy to me when it comes to speak on an occasion like this. Throughout my school life, I've seen students being bade farewell by the school and in all those times, I've feared the day when I'll be among those stepping out of the doors of this institution for ever. Today, the time seems to have come for me too to make a transition from present to history. I don't know if you realize how difficult it is for a student who has spent glorious years of his life, in a school, to step out of it. Perhaps what makes it more difficult is the fact that you're leaving behind the care and guidance of ever-respectful teachers, the love of friends only to handful of memories. An episode of my life is over, and perhaps the most important one, and the greatest sadness lies in the fact that it have been more memorable to me than anything else. Today, as I'm here to bid you goodbye, I'd like to share a few of my experiences with you. In 4th grade when I admitted to this school I used to cry, cry and only cry. At that time my teachers Ma'am Achill and Ma'am Olive helped me alot to accomodate myself in here and then in 5th grade I really did. I know it was a long span to quite those episodes of crying and ideas of bunking school. I also want to highlight my best fiends through out this golden period namely Haider and all Hamzas I mean all four Hamzas. All friends are really helping one. In the same vein, I'd like to recount all my teachers who really helped me to strengthen my very roots. Mrs. Saeed, she is no more in these bricky confinmemnts but she has secured a special corner in our hearts. Ma'am Saheen Nasir and Ma'am Uzma, who were great teachers of this institution. Sir Zaheer Alam, a thought ful man who always gives a new way to see the life. Sir M.M Alam, who dig out every funny way to make us learn things, This trick purely belongs to
