All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse. A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult. Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation. The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education. Using the vivid example of South Africa, a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy, it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes. By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals, it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re-orient the system towards learning. 3rd Economic & Social Rights Report, 1999-2000 South African Human Rights Commission, 2001. Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries Ndayizigamiye, Patrick, Barlow-Jones, Glenda, Brink, Roelien, Bvuma, Stella, Minty, Rehana, Mhlongo, Siyabonga, 2020-10-09. Technology has been hailed as one of the catalysts toward economic and human development. In the current economic era of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, information acquisition, transformation, and dissemination processes are posed to be the key enablers of development. However, in the context of developing countries, there is a need for more evidence on the impact that ICT has on addressing developmental issues. Such evidence is needed to make a case for investments in ICT-led interventions to improve people's lives in developing countries. Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries is a collection of innovative research on current trends that portray the ICT and development nexus. ICT4D from economic and human development perspectives within developing countries.
