Meeting Special Needs in Science Marion Frankland, 2013-05-13 All teachers are meeting more pupils with special needs in mainstream classrooms Although there are general issues to be aware of subject specialists will always want specific guidance and examples This series combines SEN

expertise with subject knowledge to produce practical and immediate support Covers Policy writing and how to do it Simply explanation of SEN labels Creating an inclusive classroom environment Working with TA s Nelson Modular Science Paul Collison, David Kirkby, Averil MacDonald, 2002 There are two students Books They are divided into Single and Double Award modules Book 1 6 Single Award plus 1 coursework module Book 2 6 Double Award modules These are full colour textbooks written in an accessible format to fully support the Edexcel modular specifications Each model is covered in self contained units A chapter is fully devoted to Sc1 Investigation Skills with graded exemplar material offering examiners advice along with exercises to improve students skills and enhance understanding of investigative work Key Skill opportunities are clearly outlined with weblinks Ideas and evidence in science are fully covered A number of examination questions and short questions for homework and self testing are included to aid students understanding Global Perspectives in the Geography Curriculum Alex Standish, 2008-10-07 For geographers across the globe this book provides the arguments for a return to the teaching of geography and why they should reject the politicisation of the subject by education policy makers and politicians Standish s careful critique shows the necessity of a depoliticised geography curriculum the irony of which would be that it would ensure that every child could point to Iraq Iran and Afghanistan on a map Prof Dennis Hayes Oxford Brookes University UK A prescient and critical analysis of the changing face of geography teaching This book deserves to be widely read and debated Alex Standish s book puts current trends in geography teaching in historical and critical context It comprises a forthright and timely defence of geographical education for its own sake Dr Jim Butcher FRSA Department of Sport Science Tourism and Leisure Canterbury Christ Church University Since the early 1990s educational policy makers and some subject leaders have been seeking to fundamentally change the teaching of geography in UK and US schools from a subject which encourages students to explore spatial concepts ideas and skills to a more ethics based subject concerned with the promotion of environmentalism cultural diversity and social justice In this book the new approach is critically examined within a historical and ideological context addressing a number of fundamental questions Should geography be used as a tool for the delivery of citizenship ideals How does this affect the intellectual and moral value of geographical education for young people If the state and teachers are taking more responsibility for the values attitudes and emotional responses of students how will they learn to develop these qualities for themselves If global perspectives shift the focus of education from learning about the outside world to learning about the self what is its vision of social progress and conception of social change This book advocates a return to liberal models of education arguing that the new approach to geography currently being promoted for schools fundamentally undermines the educational value of the subject and the freedom of young people to shape the world in which they live A vital resource for teachers and student teachers alike Global Perspectives in the Geography Curriculum makes a significant contribution to the growing debate about the future direction of the discipline itself The Official Index to the Financial Times , 2003
