Schooling in Sub-Saharan Africa Clive Harber, 2017-07-12 This book is a comprehensive text for those interested in formal education in sub Saharan Africa It provides a thought provoking overview of the key educational ideas themes and issues facing schooling in Africa today by drawing on a wide literature to examine evidence concerning both educational policy and the working realities of primary and secondary schools in Africa Based on the author s forty years of experience in researching and publishing on education in Africa it takes a balanced but critical approach to analysing education in Africa and discusses both positive and negative patterns across the region as well as identifying differences between and within countries The book examines major questions of educational provision structure content and process but does so in a way that raises challenging questions about gender inequality violence authoritarianism and democracy in education as well the fundamental question of whether education is achieving its desired outcomes It will be of great interest to students and researchers working in the fields of comparative and international education education and international development African education African studies and development studies Endocrine Disruptors, Brain, and Behavior Heather B. Patisaul, Scott M. Belcher, 2017-04-10 Our world and bodies are becoming increasingly polluted with chemicals capable of interfering with our hormones and thus possibly our present and future neural and mental health This book focuses on if and how these chemicals known as endocrine disrupting compounds EDCs affect the development and function of the brain and might be contributing to neural disorders rapidly rising in prevalence It provides an overall synthesis of the EDC field including its historical roots major hypotheses key findings public health policy implications and research gaps Pesticide Risk Assessment Sumitra Arora, 2019-04-08 We have been witnessing a silent chemical revolution over the past half century Pesticides bring widespread environmental contamination with residues detected far from their site of application These substances are playing havoc with the lives of humans and the environment because of their indiscriminate use Pesticide Risk Assessment describes the environmental risks associated with the injudicious use of pesticides and their mixtures their methods of estimation and assessment and their regulation It also contains methods to reduce and minimize the risks associated with the use of pesticides The book Examines pesticides their impact on the environment mode of action estimation methods risk assessment mixture toxicity alternatives for risk reduction and regulatory aspects Includes global case studies detailing cases of pesticide poisoning and the health effects of exposure to pesticides Covers risks to human health aquifers and aquatic organisms pollinators soil micro flora and fauna terrestrial organisms and wildlife Suitable for anyone involved in pesticide application and integrated pest management this is essential reading for researchers scientists extension workers and policy makers Pollinators and Pesticides Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee, 2013-04-05 If farmers had to pollinate fruit and vegetables without the help of insects it would cost hundreds of millions of pounds and we would all be stung by rising food prices Defra Ministers however have refused to back EU efforts to protect pollinators Disease habitat loss and climate change can all affect insect populations but a growing body of research suggests that neonicotinoids are having an especially damaging impact on pollinators The weight of scientific evidence now warrants precautionary action so the Committee is calling for a moratorium on pesticides linked to bee decline to be introduced by 1 January next year An EU wide moratorium on the use of imidacloprid clothianidin and TMX on crops attractive to bees following a recent risk warning from the European Food Safety Authority has also been proposed Many of the UK s largest garden retailers have voluntarily withdrawn non professional plant protection products that contain neonicotinoids A full ban on the sale of neonicotinoids for public domestic use which could create an urban safe haven for pollinators is recommended The pesticide industry must open itself to greater academic scrutiny if it wants to justify its continued opposition to the precautionary protection of pollinators The Government s National Action Plan for the Sustainable Use of Pesticides published earlier this year was a missed opportunity according to the Committee Clearer targets are needed to reduce reliance on pesticides as far as possible And Integrated Pest Management which emphasises alternatives to pesticides but does not preclude their use should be made the central principle of the plan

Legally Poisoned Carl F. Cranor, 2013-03-11 Take a random walk through your life and you

It finds it is awash in industrial often toxic chemicals. Sip water from a plastic bottle and ingest bisphenol A. Prepare dinner in a non-stick frying pan or wear a layer of Gore-Tex only to be exposed to perfluorinated compounds. Hang curtains; clip your baby into a car seat; watch television; all are manufactured with brominated flame retardants. Cosmetic ingredients, industrial chemicals, pesticides, and other compounds enter our bodies and remain briefly or permanently. Far too many suspected toxic hazards are unleashed every day that affect the development and function of our brain, immune system, reproductive organs, or hormones. But no public health law requires product testing of most chemical compounds before they enter the market. If products are deemed dangerous, toxicants must be forcibly reduced or removed, but only after harm has been done. In this scientifically rigorous legal analysis, Carl Cranor argues that just as pharmaceuticals and pesticides cannot be sold without pre-market testing, other chemical products should be subject to the same safety measures. Cranor shows in terrifying detail what risks we run and that it is entirely possible to design a less dangerous commercial world. Public Health and Toxicology Issues in Drug Research, Volume 2 Rakesh Kumar Tekade, 2024-03-26. Toxicodynamics in Drug Research Volume 2 Public Health and Toxicology Issues examines the implications of public health issues and the impact of pharmaceuticals, chemical and food toxicants, dietary phytochemicals, and medical treatments on human health. Volume 2 Public Health and Toxicology Issues in Drug Research Toxicity and Toxicodynamics covers topics on pharmacokinetics and toxicokinetics such as population pharmacokinetics, toxicokinetics, the design of toxicokinetic studies, and the use of toxicokinetic data in preclinical safety assessments. The book investigates the health effect caused by the bioaccumulation of pharmaceutical and personal care products and the impact of drug-induced toxicity on different systems of the body. It discusses the mechanistic pathways of food toxicants and illustrates the molecular mechanisms of the chemopreventive role of dietary phytochemicals. It also delves into the toxic effects of medical treatments and materials. Ethical, legal, societal, and professional issues in toxicology round off the coverage, providing a valuable resource to those interested in learning more about the health impact and public health issues related to the toxicity of pharmaceuticals, dietary supplements, personal care products, and medical treatments. Discusses the impact of pharmaceuticals, food, and chemical toxicants on human health. Examines the toxic effects of medical treatments, clinical administrations, and materials. Explores public health issues around drug safety and toxicology.
