Rosenberg, Paul Ekman, 2020-06-15

For years What the Face Reveals has been a singular collection of previously published original research using the Facial Action Coding System FACS to study facial behavior Accompanying each article is an author commentary prepared for this book on the value of bringing FACS based measurement to their area of study The new third edition includes new research findings and applications and extends the focus of earlier volumes to showcase the development of Animal FACS systems and applications of automated FACS measurement What the Face Reveals is an indispensable reference to anyone who uses FACS in their research as the studies showcased here employ a variety of methodological and design technique for the use of FACS that could be replicated or extended in other research contexts New to this Edition Revised to include 50% new contributions reflecting changes in facial measurement in the 21st century New structure organized around six areas of FACS research Animal FACS Automated Measurement Basic Affective Science Development Pain Psychopathology and Social and Health Psychology Social and Interpersonal Dynamics in Pain Tine Vervoort, Kai Karos, Zina Trost, Kenneth M. Prkachin, 2018-07-18 This groundbreaking analysis moves our knowledge of pain and its effects from the biomedical model to one accounting for its complex psychosocial dimensions Starting with its facial and physical display pain is shown in its manifold social contexts in the lifespan in a family unit expressed by a member of a gender and or race and as observed by others These observations by caregivers and family are shown as vital to the social dynamic of pain as observers react to sufferers pain and as these reactions affect those suffering The book s findings should enhance practitioners understanding of pain to develop more effective individualized treatments for clients pain experience and inspire researchers as well Among the topics covered Why do we care Evolutionary mechanisms in the social dimension of pain When how and why do we express pain On the overlap between physical and social pain Facing others in pain why context matters Caregiving impact upon sufferers cognitive functioning Targeting individual and interpersonal processes in therapeutic interventions for chronic pain Social and Interpersonal Dynamics in Pain will be a valuable resource for clinicians who deal in pain practice and management as well as for students and researchers interested in the social interpersonal and emotional variables that contribute to pain the processes with which pain is associated and the psychology of pain in general
