Grade 12 Notes Afikaans Poppie:

Institutions of World Literature Stefan Helgesson, Pieter Vermeulen, 2015-06-19 This volume engages critically with the recent and ongoing consolidation of world literature as a paradigm of study On the basis of an extended active and ultimately more literary sense of what it means to institute world literature it views processes of institutionalization not as limitations but as challenges to understand how literature may simultaneously function as an enabling and exclusionary world of its own It starts from the observation that literature is never simply a given but is always performatively and materially instituted by translators publishers academics and academics critics and readers as well as authors themselves This volume therefore substantiates refines as well as interrogates current approaches to world literature such as those developed by David Damrosch Pascale Casanova and Emily Apter Sections focus on the poetics of writers themselves market dynamics postcolonial negotiations of discrete archives of literature and translation engaging a range of related disciplines The chapters contribute to a fresh understanding of how singular literary works become inserted in transnational systems and conversely how transnational and institutional dimensions of literature are inflected in literary works Focusing its methodological and theoretical inquiries on a broad archive of texts spanning the triangle Europe Latin America Africa the volume unsettles North America as the self evident vantage of recent world literature debates Because of the volume s focus on dialogues between world literature and fields such as postcolonial studies translation studies book history and transnational studies it will be of interest to scholars and students in a range of areas Africa Since 1914 ABC-Clio Information Services, 1985 The Silence of Memory Adrian Gregory, 2014-03-04 This book examines how the British people came to terms with the massive trauma of the First World War Although the literary memory of the war has often been discussed little has been written on the public ceremonies on and around 11 November which dominated the public memory of the war in the inter war years This book aims to remedy the deficiency by showing the pre eminence of Armistice Day both in reflecting what people felt about the war and in shaping their memories of it It shows that this memory was complex rather than simple and that it was continually contested Finally it seeks to examine the impact of the Second World War on the memory of the First and to show how difficult it is to recapture the idealistic assumptions of a world that believed it had experienced the war to end all wars Race, Nation, Translation Zoë Wicomb, 2018-11-20 The first collection of nonfiction critical writings by one of the leading literary figures of post apartheid South Africa The most significant nonfiction writings of Zo Wicomb one of South Africa s leading authors and intellectuals are collected here for the first time in a single volume This compilation features critical essays on the works of such prominent South African writers as Bessie Head Nadine Gordimer Njabulo Ndebele and J M Coetzee as well as writings on gender politics race identity visual art sexuality and a wide range of other cultural and political topics Also included are a reflection on Nelson Mandela and a revealing interview with Wicomb In these essays written between 1990 and 2013 Wicomb offers insight on her nation s history policies and people In a world in which nationalist rhetoric is on the rise and diversity and pluralism are the declared enemies of right wing populist movements her essays speak powerfully to a wide range of international issues
